And Here Is The Mother, Too

PAINT the page on light-weight cardboard. Cut out all the pieces of the Mother, and the Little Girl, the basket of Easter eggs, and the windmills. Punch small holes in the circles. Tie a hard knot in soft wrapping twine, the kind you wrap an express package with; run the other end of the twine through the holes to hold the pieces in proper place, and tie a hard knot in the other end of the twine right down against the pieces. Use separate pieces of twine for each set of holes marked A, B, C, D, and E. Cut a slit in the basket handle and run the other end of the twine through it when you want her to pick up the basket, cut a slit in the Mother's apron and set the basket of Easter eggs in it.

A PRACTICAL mother, who realized how hard children are on floors, selected Armstrong's Carpet Inlaid Linoleum for this nursery, and had it laid by the merchant's expert.

She liked the soft buff tones and graceful flowerings, running clear through to the burlap back—an effective foil to the vivid coloring of the rest of the room.

She realized that the tough, elastic fabric would wear well under rough-and-tumble play and sliding furniture.

Armstrong's Linoleum is practically germ-proof. There are no cracks or crevices to catch dirt. There is nothing in the smooth surface to trip up little feet, no splinters to tear delicate frocks.

The linoleum was cemented down firmly over a layer of heavy felt paper, thus making it a real, permanent floor. A good floor wax was rubbed thoroughly into its surface, polishing it beautifully and adding materially to its wearing value. An occasional wiping and polishing will keep the linoleum in first-class condition.

Have your merchant show you the complete line of Armstrong designs, appropriate for every room in the house. But whichever you choose, have the linoleum laid right. Then you will have an economical, long-lasting, permanently attractive floor.

Linoleum is made of powdered cork, wood flour and oxidized linseed oil, pressed on burlap. Genuine linoleum always has a burlap back, is flexible and not easy to tear. Be sure that you get it. Better still, ask for Armstrong's Linoleum by name. There is a difference.

Sykes Comfort Powder

Why every mother should know the facts

PERHAPS you are one of those mothers who have taken for granted that all powders are equally good for children's skin. Nothing could be farther from the facts.

There is all the difference in the world between the ordinary talcum powder and Sykes Comfort Powder.

While it possesses all the qualifications for toilet and dusting purposes that ordinary talcums do, in addition Sykes Comfort Powder contains healing, soothing and antiseptic ingredients not found in any other powder.

Sykes Comfort Powder is a specialized powder, the special function of which is to heal and protect the skin of infants and children.

It is scientifically medicated and is made from the formula of a well-known New England chemist after long study and consultation with specialists in children's skin affections.

NATURALLY it appeals to nurses and physicians, and for more than twenty-five years it has been sold almost exclusively on their recommendation.

They know the difference in effect between an ordinary talcum and Sykes Comfort Powder with its actual healing qualities, bland and agreeable to the most delicate skin.

They know that the habitual use of Sykes Comfort Powder will prevent irritations and minor affections of children's skin.

After years of experience they freely recommend it to relieve the skin of chafing, inflammation, scalding, rashes and soreness.

It is a superior cooling and healing application for sunburn, hives, and heat rashes in summer weather.

A Specialized Powder for Children

Mothers can see the beneficial effect very shortly after the first application of Sykes Comfort Powder.

When used regularly it protects the skin.

For your child's sake we ask you not to accept a substitute. There is nothing like it so nothing else will do. For sale at leading drug and department stores, or sent postpaid on receipt of price.

FOR A 3-CENT STAMP

We have a trial facsimile box of Sykes Comfort Powder which we will gladly send you if you will send a three cent stamp with your name and address. It contains enough powder to last about a week. Then you will understand how valuable this special medicated powder can be.

OF course our Christmas tree was fine,
And all the gifts were splendid.
Jane liked hers and I liked mine
As much as Cousin Ben did.

Jane got a dolly that can walk,
And I a chest of tools,
A blackboard and a box of chalk
Just like they have in schools.

She had a sled and I a ball,
A stockingful of candy,
And skates and—I can't tell you all
But everything was dandy.

If mother tells you that we cried
'Twas Ben made us begin it,
He wouldn't even let us ride
His Kiddie-Kar a minute.

I spied it when the tree was lit
All shining red and yellow
And thought when father reached for it
I was the lucky fellow.

Jane and I never had one yet
But now we've got a plan.
We can have Kiddie-Kars, I bet,
If other children can

Next Christmas isn't very far.
Then, Jane and I agree,
I shall give her a Kiddie-Kar,
And she'll give one to me!

KIDDIE-KAR

THERE is no reason why any boy or girl should be without a Kiddie-Kar after this Christmas

Among the five sizes there is one that is correct for a child of any age, from one year up to eight.

The prices are astonishingly low—the smallest is $1.25, the largest $3.50 Think of getting a vehicle that will delight your child and last for years, as cheap as that! Only the economy of our vast production one million in 1919—makes this low price possible

Kiddie-Kar is perfectly safe, even for a baby—close to the ground, almost impossible to tip over, no sharp corners or splinters, no adjustments to pinch the fingers, tear clothes or get out of order

It [illegible], affords healthful exercise out [illegible] the only practical indoor vehicle [illegible] and does not injure floors or rugs

LITTLE brother, would you be Very tall and strong like me?
Then you will, if you are wise,
Take your daily exercise.

Even though you cannot talk,
And have not begun to walk
You are big enough to own
A Kiddie-Kar, and ride alone.

Don't you think that it is pleasant
To have a birthday and a present?
Now that you are one year old
You must be a warrior bold.

I'm sure you will enjoy it more
Than simply creeping on the floor.
There is very little to it,
Let me show you how to do it.

Never fear that you will fall,
See, it does not tip at all.
Sit upon this comfy seat
And push it onward with your feet

Then as soon as you can learn
To travel swiftly and to turn,
You shall come outdoors and see
What fun it is to race with me.

Gaily, gaily we shall ride
On our journeys, side by side.

CURTIS GARAGE AIR COMPRESSORS

"CURTIS AIR—FREE FROM OIL."

PURE AIR for your customer means good service, because oil ruins tires, and AIR FREE FROM OIL means fewer blow-outs—fewer punctures—greater tire mileage—less repairs; saves them many dollars up-keep every month.

A Few Curtis Exclusive Features

1. Controlled Splash Self-Oiling System, with cylinder oiling of the controlled splash permanently regulated. Result, no oil gets into the tires to rot them and the compressor will run ten to fifteen times as long on the same amount of oil as any other splash oiling compressor; one-tenth as much oil used, one-tenth as much attention required.
2. High and Low Level Oil Filling Gauge, so you can tell at a glance the amount of oil in the crank case.
3. Fan Fly Wheel assists in cooling the cylinder.
4. Valves of light weight and large area, inspectable without removing head.
5. Safety Cage prevents possibility of broken valves dropping and wrecking the machine.
6. Hand Unloader permits starting against full tank pressure without burning out motor, blowing fuses, burning or jumping of belt.
7. Large Drop-Forged Crank Shaft, Adjustable, Renewable, die cast non-cutting bearings.
8. Head Removable without breaking pipe connections. Only one gasket

THE PEARL

The Pearl Pattern is made exclusively in "R. Wallace" Sectional Heavy Silver Plate. The design is very simple and well proportioned. The chain of pearl bead decoration, inside a gently rounded border, stands out in mild contrast to the dull platinum finish in general. Altogether a delightful pattern.

THE LAST NAME OF

"MORCO" TOOLS

In Business, in Industry and in the Trades, the word "STILLSON" is a great word.

Stillson is a great word because Stillson means a great tool-service applied to the performance of countless daily jobs that make the world's wheels go round.

The world would go slower and harder, the world would be weaker and poorer, without the tool-service the Stillson first made possible.

But remember—"Stillson" is not a patent on wrenches; Stillson is only a principle in wrenches. There are many "Stillson" Wrenches, just as there are many automobiles.

When it comes to automobiles, you take it for granted that all of them run on the same principle—but you don't take it for granted that one automobile is therefore just the same as another.

You don't go around wanting an automobile. You want the automobile!

TEXT OF GUARANTEE

We guarantee this tool to be free from defects and will cheerfully replace should it prove defective. We stand back of our product in every way.

STILLSON IS MOORE

"MORCO" TOOLS

So with "Stillson" Wrenches. What guarantees the great tool-service all men want in a "Stillson" Wrench isn't the name STILLSON—it's the name of the manufacturer great enough to work out the "Stillson" principle to its last and final perfection.

The last name of STILLSON is MOORE!

The great Stillson feature that improved wrenches was a design that fits the frame into the bar to relieve all strain on the frame pin. This Stillson principle has been retained by Moore because it is the right principle.

It adds to the cost of making wrenches—but it adds to the economy of owning and using them.

Not all "Stillson" Wrenches are built after the true Stillson design.

Moore's "Money-back" Stillson Wrench guarantees the best service to the workman and the most sales to the dealer.

You will be interested in our richly humorous "RED LETTER DAYS" series of advertisements now running in Hardware Age. Keep them in mind—cut out all five and show them to your customers.

Meanwhile—stock up a complete line of Moore's Stillson's—both steel and wooden handle, all commercial sizes.

Dealers everywhere are standardizing their Stillsons by stocking Moore's

Brushes
MADE IN U.S.A.
All Bristles

Less Bristles Less Life
GUARANTEE
This brush is made to last a lifetime because its bristles are everlastingly held—hard rubber ferrule—real bone handle

All Bristles—No Plugs.

No plugs in the "Ever-Ready"! Some manufacturers save bristles but deceive customers with wooden plugs in bristle space.

The "Ever-Ready" Brush is all bristles held solid with HARD RUBBER GRIP—a combination of conscientiousness and quality throughout.

Every "Ever-Ready" Shaving Brush reaches the user fresh and clean. All "Ever-Ready" bristles are sterilized. Each brush, after it reaches the finishing stage, is sealed in a sanitary wax tissue, packed in its own carton, secure against unclean handling.

EVER-READY SHAVING BRUSH ASSORTMENT

The 'Ever-Ready' is the nearest approach to indestructible shaving brush construction.

The art of bristle gripping is neither patented nor controlled—it is the property of those who make brushes right.

The 'Ever-Ready' bristles are gathered from the world's markets. The least priced 'Ever-Ready' brushes are sterilized—are hygienically cleaned. This is something that cannot be said of brands that are possibly given credit for virtues they do not possess.

The 'Ever-ready' brush is not alone a quality brush but it is a safe brush. It is a worthily made brush. The 'Ever-Ready' shaving brush is sold at a range of popular prices, insuring better value for the same money.

The Business of Razors

? Why Don't Barbers Use "Patent" Razors ?

If the great, solid mass of men—those who shave every day and therefore know razors by the acid test of use—should begin to advertise what they want in a razor, just as some razor manufacturers advertise what these men are supposed to want, the results would be surprising.

The results would be surprising to every manufacturer except the one who has stuck to his guns year after year, making "regular" razors for regular men. Flinkor Razors have superior steel—perfect balance—careful and attractive finish.

Flinkor Razors are made by cutlery experts—not fancy "inventors."

The line is big. Its reputation is bigger. Sales opportunities are biggest of all.

KOHLMANN PIANOS

It is difficult for the average person to accurately judge a piano, as there are hundreds of makes and names—some of them good, yet many making insupportable claims.

The only real safeguard in buying a piano is the well-known reliability of the maker and his ability and facility today to produce a strictly high-grade instrument.

Kohlmann durability is second only to Kohlmann tone quality and both are strictly high grade. They are made in one of the largest factories in the world and separate departments have been installed at a big outlay of capital. These departments are equipped with the most modern machinery. Our great output and ability to use raw material in enormous quantities enables us to make a strictly high-grade instrument that can be sold for much less money than the now prevailing prices.

Kohlmann Pianos are backed by a guarantee that is unquestionable. With every piano we give you a binding certificate of warranty, extending over a term of ten years. We have but one price—the lowest at which a high grade instrument can be sold for.

KOHLMANN PARLOR GRAND

This instrument is beautifully designed, pleasing in its appearance, having hand-carved trusses, pilasters, and top frame, which gives this piano a very symmetrical and attractive appearance. Is massive in its construction, double veneered inside and out, furnished in beautiful walnut, mahogany and selected quarter sawed oak veneers, and lined throughout with birdseye maple. Sounding board of best quality of spruce and ribs of the same material, which are notched into the lining. The two bass and arms are all laminated construction, built so as to withstand all atmospheric changes.

This instrument is equipped with full bronzed plate, resting from top to bottom, bushed tuning pins, copper bass; music wire of German and American and imported German tuning pins. Is supplied with splendid triple repeating action, best quality of 13-pound hammers, and ivory keys.

Kohlmann Player Pianos

Equipped with Transposer, Regulating the Tone of Music to 5 Different Keys
Suitable for Vocalist Accompaniment

The Most Wonderful Invention of the Twentieth Century

After a most careful study and experimentation of the many players on the market we offer the Kohlmann Player Piano as one that is worthy and allied to bring out the musical excellence. It is a perfected piece of mechanism that is beyond criticism of the most gifted player We present a standard player of the most approved type at the price of an ordinary piano.

The Kohlmann Player attachment consists of three principal units—the Motor Action located back of the upper panel of which the Music Rolls are a part, The Vacuum System, a tie-piece unit placed behind the lower panel beneath the Key Board and the Pneumatic System placed behind the Fall Board above the Key Board.

These three principal work in conjection with the piano action by many ingenious parts that have been worked out and improved to a point approaching perfection. All of these parts and fixtures are out of sight and the only outward appearance of them is the music roll, and while the player mechanism and the piano are embodied in one case they operate absolutely independent of each other. The music-roll and pedals practically vanish when the player-attachment is not in use. The music-roll disappears from sight behind ornamental panels and the pedals are invisible when folded in when the player is not in use. The three buttons—one being sustaining or "loud" pedal, the other two—"soft," treble and bass—together with the tempo lever and rewind levers are also invisible when not in use. They enable the user, with but very little practice to render the most satisfying and "accented" music with delicacy of expression and nice musical effect.

THE MOTOR is one of the strongest features of the Kohlmann make of player-pianos. It is Five Point and frictionless and is the very heart of the organism and its rythmic action operates, regulates and controls the working of the entire action.

There are no complications about this motor, it occupies but little space and its lightness and efficiency are amazing. Its simplicity makes it trouble proof and it will not get out of adjustment with constant and hard usage.

THE GOVERNOR is an essential and necessary adjunct of the motor in that it automatically imparts to the engine a steady pneumatic pressure whenever the pedals are worked fast or slow. Governor is provided with a special form of valve and this with two adjusting set-screws constitute the only parts employed.

The Kohlmann player is equipped with flexible Air tubes and adjusting tracking device.

THE PEDALS in the Kohlmann player fold up into the case at the bottom above the regular piano pedals and when thus folded give the appearance of an ordinary piano. These pedals are a great improvement over most others in the matter of ease of operation and the immense leverage exerted. Their use will not tire even a small child. They have eliminated the item of fatigue from player pianos.

OTHER FEATURES of the player action are the general high grade quality of materials used, the fine alignment and balance of the works and the assured durability of the whole.

Player Bench and Six Player Rolls included.

THE LAUREL

This pattern embodies the three much-desired virtues of grace, simplicity and daintiness. The time-honored Laurel wreath and berry decoration is featured just enough to take away any impression of an otherwise severe outline. The Laurel has the pleasing Butler finish. Staples are listed in both "1835 R. Wallace" and "R. Wallace" Sectional grades; fancy pieces in "R. Wallace" Sectional grade only.

Reproducer

The large two and nine-sixteenth Diaphram, the long stylus bar, together with absolute correct proportions, grade and thickness of mica, give the longer and deeper, more real, vibrations to the tonal reproductions. The materials used in the stylus bar are scientifically correct. The cut in the stylus base permits a firm hold thru the medium of the pivot screws and at the same time allows a "spring" that gives the utmost freedom of action as well as overcoming climatic difficulties

Care of Motor

Every piece of machinery, no matter how perfect, or simple in its construction, will last longer and give greater satisfaction if it receives a reasonable amount of care.

It is obvious, therefore, that the mechanism will be the better for a little attention now and then.

If, after a time, the motor becomes noisy and squeaks, it needs oiling. Springs are lubricated by a special graphite, which, of course, can best be applied by an expert. Worm gear driving governor requires lubricating with pure vaseline occasionally. A little lasts a long time. Other bearings can be lubricated with a good quality sewing machine or typewriter oil.

Jumping springs or noises in the springs indicate that the springs need lubricating. Use a little kerosene.

To reach motor, remove screws at end of motor board, NEVER DISTURB SCREWS OR BOLTS UNDER TURNTABLE AS THESE HOLD MOTOR IN PLACE.

Turn off brakes and remove turntable and winding handle.

Lift board on right side first, so as to clear arm which supports cover by drawing board away from it.

Tractor and Gas Engine Review
For Maker and User

Volume 14 FEBRUARY, 1921 Number 2

Putting Tractors to the Test

Some Effects of the Nebraska Law

THE Nebraska tractor law is popularly thought to be designed with the sole idea of prohibiting the sale in Nebraska of inferior tractors which are misrepresented by the sellers. This is only a superficial view of the usefulness of this law according to the hopes and beliefs of the men who made it. As to whether they are right, you may be the judge.

Quoting from the printed statement of the Board of Tractor Test Engineers for Nebraska, "The Nebraska tractor law known as house roll 85, 37th session, which became effective July 15, 1919, was enacted to encourage the manufacture and sale of improved types of tractors and to contribute to a more successful use of the tractor for farming.

"It was thought that the best method of accomplishing these objects would be to require a tractor of each model sold in the state, to be tested at the State University and to have the results of these tests made public. These tests will give reliable information on the power capacity and fuel consumption of each tractor, and also some information on endurance. The results of the tests will be useful to farmers and dealers in making selection of tractors. Manufacturers also will no doubt find that the results of the tests are of some value to their engineering and sales departments."

To some extent, it is true that the working of this law in Nebraska has increased the confidence of prospective tractor owners, and caused some of them to buy tractors who otherwise would have hesitated and decided against the purchase. Large numbers of tractor farmers have visited the university farm at Lincoln, to see for themselves just how these tests are conducted by the state, and many from other states, as well as Nebraska, have bought the official reports covering the tractors in which they were particularly interested.

The results also have been desirable in that a few companies that have made claims for their tractors that are of doubtful truth, have been instructed to modify these claims until they are in strict accord with the truth. This is of benefit to reliable manufacturers who always have tried to be on the square, as well as to the person who is considering the buying of a tractor.

It is a matter of record that ninety-six applications for test were filed by manufacturers, last year, with the Board of Tractor Test Engineers. It is of interest to note that, after the work of the Board was started, twenty-five of these applications were withdrawn, which meant that the makers of these twenty-five tractors voluntarily decided not to sell in the state of Nebraska.

Twenty-three of those that completed the test made some change to increase the power development of their tractor, or made a change in the claim for what their machine would do. Of these, five increased the engine speed, eleven reduced the horse power rating and seven made some change in details of the machine so as to increase the power or efficiency of the tractor.

The official report on any of these tractors that have been tested in Nebraska, may be purchased from the Agricultural Experiment Station of the University of Nebraska, Lincoln, Nebraska, for fifteen cents each. The man who is planning to buy a tractor can get some very interesting reading for a moderate price, by sending for the official tests on ten or twelve tractors in which he is especially interested.

In making the test, drawbar work at from one-third to full load is given for twelve hours. This test gives opportunity for the tractor to "limber up." A brake horse power test at the rated load and rated speed is then given for two hours. The purpose of this test is to show whether or not the tractor will carry its rated load on the belt; and also to show the fuel consumption at the rated load. A brake horse power test is then given at a load varying from maximum to no load, with the engine adjustment left the same as in the brake horse power test at rated load which was just mentioned. This test at varying load is continued for one hour, and its purpose is to show the fuel consumption and speed control of the tractor on varying load.

A brake horse power test at maximum load is then given for one hour, with the governor set as in the previous brake horse power test; and the carburetor adjusted to give maximum power. The purpose of this test is to show the maximum horse power of the tractor on the belt. Next a brake horse power test, continuing for one hour, is given at one-half load with the governor set as before and the carburetor adjusted for the most economical operation at one-half load. This test is to show the fuel consumption of the tractor at half load. These four tests complete the brake horse power tests.

Drawbar horse power is next tested at the rated load for ten hours. This test is made on a cinder track which is carefully kept in condition so that all of the different tractors will be operated under exactly the same conditions as far as traction is concerned.

The Dynamometer Used for the Tests.

The purpose of this ten-hour test on the drawbar at rated load is to show whether or not the tractor will carry its rated drawbar load continuously, and also to show the fuel consumption on drawbar work. A criticism that has repeatedly been made by

Putting the Tractor to the Test

the writer, in regard to the work done at the National Tractor Demonstrations such as were held last in 1919 at Wichita, Kansas, and Aberdeen, South Dakota, was that any tractor should be able to plow at full load for one or two hours without any inconvenience; and at the National Tractor Demonstrations it was possible to provide ground for plowing for only about that length of time in any one day, because of the large number of tractors working at the same time. This objection is overcome in the Nebraska tests by giving each machine an exhaustive run which should bring to light any serious defect, and which certainly will cause the engine to heat excessively if it cannot carry its full rated load for ten hours of consecutive running.

Following this ten-hour drawbar test at rated load, a maximum drawbar test is given. This test consists of a series of short runs with an increase of load for each run, until the engine is overloaded or the drive wheels slip excessively.

In addition to these brake and drawbar horse power tests, several miscellaneous tests may be carried on which include investigation of work on incline, turning radius, effectiveness of brakes, or any other feature of the tractor which may seem to require special observation.

During the first limbering up run, the tractor is operated by a man supplied by the manufacturer. During all of the test following this first limbering up run of the tractor, the machine is operated by engineers employed by the state of Nebraska. The operator employed by the manufacturer is present at all times during the test, to see that the tractor is operated properly and that the test is fair in every way to the tractor. Representatives of the manufacturers are not allowed, however, to handle the tractor or any of the testing equipment during the test excepting by authority from the engineer in charge or some person designated by him.

It is not possible, of course, to determine the efficient life of a tractor by a test such as this which is lasting only for about thirty hours. It is possible, however, to detect any features that may give continual trouble. In the official report, a statement is made telling of all replacements, repairs, adjustments and cleaning that may have been necessary, also of any difficulty in the operation of the lubrication, cooling or any other part of the tractor. If an undue amount of wear is suspected in any part of the tractor, it is examined at the end of the test.

Probably these tests are of much more real service to tractor users than a national plowing demonstration ever was or can be; and, taken in combination with a large tractor show, such as that held in Columbus this month, would seem to practically answer the demand of prospective buyers for detailed and authoritative information. Of course, if some of the rumors now in circulation materialize and the manufacturers decide to spend the money required to put on a national plowing demonstration next summer, prospective buyers who can arrange to attend will welcome the added advantage this will give to study the different tractors in action.

A Letter Worth Reading

will do its work in a satisfactory manner. For a machine of the homemade type, we think it is hard to beat. We use this outfit for sawing wood most of the time, and yet it comes in handy for any other jobs around the farm.

I can shift the gears without getting from the seat of my tractor. As the transmission and the differential were taken from an old car, I reversed the position of the transmission, bringing it behind the rear axle. The differential is just a little in front of the drivers. After making these changes, I also had to reverse the position of the foot levers.

The gears and the brake now work just the same as on a motor car, being in front of the operator. The clutch lever works by hand and is in easy reach at the left of the operator.

After the engine is started, everything can be done from the driver's seat, even to making carburetor adjustments.

On noticing the photograph, you will see that I used a five-inch belt from the engine pulley to the transmission. A chain drive could be used, but I have an idler that operates by a hand lever. This is within easy reach from the seat; it keeps the belt tight at all times, and also makes the belt easy to remove.

This belt transmission does not give any trouble on the road; in fact, for a long time I used a three-inch belt. I do not think a cheaper outfit could be made, for aside from the price of the engine (one hundred and eighty dollars) and my work, the equipment cost me only twenty dollars. Of course, this equipment was valued almost at scrap-iron prices. There was much work to the job but I enjoyed it all. E. W. CARLTON.

Farmington, Tenn.

(Editor's Note: We call the attention of our readers to the home-made sleighs on the farm shop of Carlton Brothers. This is something that the northern farmer seldom sees at the present time.)

Every Farmer Should Read This

Cost of purchase of farm machinery of permanent character, such as a threshing machine, and extensive repairs to farm buildings, such as placing a new roof on the barn, are not deductible expenses, but are regarded as capital investments.

The automobile and motor truck now form a part of farm equipment. The cost of such vehicles is not an allowable deduction, but cost of operation may be claimed if they are used exclusively for farm purposes, and not for pleasure or convenience. Also, in such cases, claim may be made for a reasonable deduction for depreciation of such vehicles.

Losses incurred in the operation of a farm as a business enterprise are deductible from gross income. If, however, farm products are held for a favorable market no deduction on account of shrinkage in weight or physical value by reason of deterioration in storage is allowed. Loss by frost, storm, flood or fire of a prospective crop, or of a crop which has not been sold is not deductible. The reason for this rule is that unless the crop reaches maturity and is harvested and sold, its value is never included in gross income, and the farmer has so much less income to report. The same is true with regard to the loss of animals raised on the farm. However, if live stock has been purchased and afterwards dies, or is killed by order of federal or state authorities, the actual purchase price, less any depreciation

Silver Overlaid Table Service

UNIVERSAL SILVER OVERLAID TABLE SERVICE is made by depositing upon a solid white nickel silver base a heavy reinforced plate of pure silver of sufficient thickness to withstand the constant wear of many years.

Each piece is unexcelled in workmanship, uniformly correct in proportion and design and will give during its long period of service a distinction to the table hitherto unattained except by the best products of Sterling Silver.

Only Resistain steel or solid Silvadium blades which will not stain, rust or turn black on the edges are used on all Hollow Handle Cutlery pieces—an exclusive "Universal" feature.

FARMINGTON PATTERN

FARMINGTON PATTERN

FARMINGTON the beautiful New England town from which this pattern takes its name, is one of the oldest settlements in Connecticut and is renowned for its fine examples of early Colonial architecture.

The chaste simplicity of the lines of the spire and belfry of the old church, its most admired structure, is suggested in the Farmington pattern.

SAYBROOK PATTERN

SAYBROOK PATTERN

Where "Old Saybrook" still stands at the mouth of the Connecticut the first fort of the colony was located. On the broad village street stands the old historic homestead known as the "House of Romance", the favorite visiting place of Washington Irving and Fitz-Greene Halleck and from where the gallant Commodore Isaac Hull won his bride.

Truly Colonial in design and suggesting romantic traditions, the Saybrook pattern will be particularly valued as a wedding gift that may be handed to succeeding generations as a treasured family heirloom.

UNIVERSAL SILVER OVERLAID TABLE SERVICE costs but little more, is worth considerably more and should not be confused with ordinary silver plated ware.

The brand "Universal" on silver table ware is a mark of supreme quality, the result of an experience of over fifty years in the artistic working and plating of metals. It is our absolute guarantee on each piece that it will give satisfactory service in any household.

The Manophone

The Music Master of Phonographs

In the Manophone we present an instrument designed to meet the demands of the most discriminative purchasers; a talking machine whose superior tone quality will instantly appeal to the ears of the most critical listeners possessing educated musical tastes.

The Manophone is manufactured by the same factory and the same skilled artisans who for nearly 70 years have been makers of world famous Clough & Warren pianos. It was designed by experts having a knowledge of the finest principles of acoustics, resulting in a machine which, for beauty and fidelity of tone production, is rivalled only by nature itself.

The Manophone is a finished article, an ornament to the most richly furnished homes. It is built by master workmen, educated to turn out only a first-class product. It plays every disc record with a pleasing interpretation heretofore unequalled.

We direct your attention to the illustrations on the following pages, also to the reading matter, explaining the special features that make the Manophone the crowning achievement of the talking machine world.

Order a sample machine and hear this superb phonograph played. Listen to your favorite pieces. Prove to yourself that the Manophone is in a class exclusively its own—the one ideal instrument that will lend itself most highly to your pleasure and entertainment, then you will unhesitatingly recommend it to all of your customers and soon be doing a big, profitable talking machine business.

Plays all Disc Records

It matters not whether you wish to play a lateral cut or vertical cut record. The Manophone plays all records made for jewelled points with the same rich melody that it plays the steel needle records. Simply change the position of the tone arm as shown in the illustration.

No. 1 represents the Edison style needle equipped with Diamond point.
Use steel needles for Manophone Records, same position as above.

Position of Reproducer playing Victor and Columbia.

We especially recommend our Manophone records to be played on the Manophone machines.

The Manophone Motor

Motors are made especially for the Manophone, and constructed to meet the specifications of expert engineers. Every motor in the Manophone is tested carefully before it is sent out of the factory. This insures your getting a motor that will not cause trouble. Manophone motors wind easily and run silently. Can be wound while machine is playing. Will last a lifetime.

Guaranty

It is hereby guaranteed that the "Manophone" is perfect in workmanship, material and operation, and that it will remain so for a period of one year from date of purchase.

In the event that this instrument, at any time hereafter, requires adjustment or is in need of repair, the Manophone Corporation will expedite such work for the purchaser.

If, at any time through accident on the part of the purchaser, or otherwise, damage is done to this instrument, the Manophone Corporation hereby agrees to repair such damage, or to replace such damaged parts (if replacement is necessary), at cost to the purchaser for such repairs or parts involved.

As evidence of the faith which the Manophone Corporation has in this instrument, and as further and complete protection for you, the officers of the Manophone Corporation guarantee the Manophone above listed.

Where Fishing Tackle Reigns Supreme

By LLEW. S. SOULE
The Man Behind the Counter

EUREKA, CAL., is the most Westerly city in the United States. It could hardly get farther west without stepping off into the Pacific Ocean. Also it is a genuine sportsman's paradise. There isn't a place on the map where there are more opportunities for a red-blooded disciple of Isaac Walton, or where the fish and game is more easy of access. Humboldt County is a mixture of timbered mountains and grass-covered valleys, cut with numberless rivers and streams all teeming with the kind of trout that fight to a finish. It borders on the famous Humboldt Bay, which houses school after school of salmon, halibut, rock cod, flounders and sea bass, to say nothing of the smelts and surf fish.

Within the shadows of the giant red-woods lurk deer and elk, black, brown and cinnamon bear, with an occasional grizzly, while the brush-covered hills harbor mountain lions, lynxes and other members of the wild cat family. There are fine paved or graveled roads leading from the town to all the main fishing streams and hunting preserves, and often the watchful hunter bags a deer or bear without leaving the main traveled highways. Once in a great while you are confronted with one of those unfriendly "No Hunting" signs, but the bulk of the country is open to every sportsman who carries a license. Up in the hills there are big sheep and cattle ranches, the owners of which maintain trained packs of hounds to combat the depredations of bears, mountain lions, coyotes and wild cats, and it is comparatively easy to arrange with the pack managers for big game hunts at the proper [illegible]

The man who has never camped out in Humboldt County, amid the grandeur of the big trees, high mountains and rushing streams has never really had an outing. He has only played at camping out. But what is the use of telling you all about it—this is a sporting goods story and the rest is only by-play. You would guess all that I have told you the first time you got a glimpse of the varied sporting goods stocks in the stores of those Eureka hardware merchants. In most stores the sporting goods line is carried more or less as a side issue, but in Eureka it is the big end of the game. Honestly, I saw more fishing tackle and more guns in two Eureka hardware stores than I knew existed, and believe me, those Eureka merchants know the sporting goods business from A to Z.

Where Fishing Tackle Reigns Supreme

IN the store of the H. H. Buhne Co., Inc., is to be found what is probably the largest retail stock of fishing tackle and other angler's supplies on the Pacific Coast. This progressive firm sells close to $25,000 worth of fishing paraphernalia every year. The old-timers all know the Buhne store. It is one of the oldest in Humboldt County, having been started away back in 1862 under the firm name of L. S. Schmidt & Co., with Henry Buhne, Sr., as the silent member of the firm. Two years later Buhne took over the entire business and put it on a firmer financial basis. In 1879 the present head of the firm, H. H. Buhne, Jr., took the helm, and for forty years he has kept the hardware boat on an even keel. The firm has two stores in Eureka.

The old original store at 422 First Street is still in operation and is doing a brisk business in heavy implements, ship chandlers supplies and similar lines. For many years it housed the entire hardware line, but there came a time when the sporting goods clamored for more space and Buhne opened up a special store for the line in a somewhat better location. Still the business grew, and in 1908 the present big store was opened up, with the general hardware and tool lines on one side and sporting goods on the other. It is some store in more ways than one.

Unique Cabinet for Spoon Hooks and Flies

IT took Henry Buhne over three years to perfect his store arrangement, but the results justify the expenditure of time and money. Buhne is an enthusiastic angler himself, and the head of his sporting goods department—Harry Kelly—is an acknowledged authority on everything pertaining to the finny tribe. Harry has made his home behind the Buhne counters for the past twenty-five years and is known from one end of Humboldt County to the other. Also he is a trap shooter of no mean caliber and the sporting goods buyers go to him for both advice and equipment.

Buhne's system for handling spoon hooks and flies is both unique and practical. A large section of the wall shelving has been made over in cabinet form, with well-made drawers of various sizes. The partitions between the drawers carry numbers similar to those on the face of the drawers, making it impossible to get the stock in the wrong sections. Above each drawer is a printed list of the contents. For example: Over one drawer is the sign, "Bay Fishing Hooks, All Sizes." Another sign reads, "Big Lagoon Spinners," while still another reads, "California Bass Hooks, Size 5/0 to 10, 16c. Per Dozen." These are the larger drawers shown in our illustration. Above them are three sets of Warren drawers, smaller size, fitted to hold the various spoon hooks and spinners. Under the first set is this sign: "All Western Spoons in Above Cabinet." Under the second, "All La Forge Spoons in Above Cabinet." Under the third, "All Brigand Spoons in Above Cabinet." This method of arrangement makes it comparatively easy to locate any particular kind of spoon quickly

The large drawers referred to above are built to hold sets of trays, each tray being divided into bins or compartments to hold the various kinds and sizes of spoons or flies. The trays can be placed on the counter for the inspection of the customer

Buhne's system for trout flies deserves special mention. The bins in the trays are all lettered and each contains only the flies, the names of which begin with the letter on that particular tray. Under B you will find Brown Hackle flies; under C, Coachman flies; under D, Dewey flies, etc. It is an easy matter for even the new employee to find any kind of fly desired in a minimum of time. The store carries on an average about 300 gross of spoon hooks, 300 gross of flies, and other lines in similar proportions. Prices on the flies range from 60c. per dozen to $3 per dozen. According to Buhne, Eureka sportsmen require more different types of tackle than others on the Coast on account of the diversity of waters fished.

The cabinet drawer system used by the H. H. Buhne Co., Eureka, Cal., to house an immense stock of spoons and flies

Rods, Reels and Trolling Outfits

BIG drawers beneath the base shelf house Buhne's immense stock of rods, reels and trolling outfits, as well as the ferrules, gaffs, spears and similar items. Each drawer is lettered to indicate the contents, price and such other information as is necessary. You should see that stock. There are drawers filled with salmon rods, steel bait and casting rods, fly rods and trunk rods; drawers of gaff hooks and landing nets, and still other drawers containing thousands of those large steel hooks used for halibut, cod and shark. Some of those hooks look big enough to land a whale. And the rods—why, the average stock at Buhne's is 150 cheap rods and about 500 of the higher priced ones ranging from $6 to $45 each.

The common rods are displayed in regular rod racks, but the better ones are kept in the cases or drawers. There is a big wood rack back of the front counter, the spaces of which are all numbered. When the display racks are filled, each rod carries a ticket on which a number is printed, and the case, extra tip, etc., are placed in the space of the wood rack which carries the same number. When a rod is sold there is no chance of sending it out in the wrong case or with the wrong parts. It is a system that can be copied to good advantage in many stores where rods are carried

Floor Cases That Talk Tackle

IN the sporting goods section there are two big floor cases of the silent salesman type, one 10 ft.

Interior of the Buhne store, showing entire side given to sporting goods and the other 12 ft. long. These cases are filled with such items as fish lines, leaders, floaters, gaff hooks, sinkers, etc. Inside the cases are bins or open top drawers so arranged that they pyramid back from the base to the top. One case has 80 of these bins, while the other has 85, and every bin is full to the guards. These cases are not only used for the regular lines, but they come in mighty handy in closing out the short lines and slow-moving items. Each drawer is marked with the contents and the price in plain figures, and there is always a group of prospective anglers gathered around these cases. They pull more cash from the pockets of Eureka kids than all the candy counters in the city.

Some reels of the cheaper grades are shown in these cases, but the main stock is carried in large, special compartment drawers under the base shelf. There are hundreds of fine trout reels and drawer after drawer filled with large trolling reels, automatic reels and novelty reels. The compartments are all built to fit the reels and are lined with cloth. There are over a thousand reels in stock at all times and more during the heavy fishing seasons. Another thing I forgot to mention: Buhne carries a complete line of rod parts and repairs, ferrules, tips, butts, etc., and is always prepared to refit any damaged rod that is brought in. He also carries a complete line of nets, fish baskets, wading boots and fishing or hunting togs. You can outfit from the license to the hook at Buhne's Only the catch is up to you.

Line Up with the Baseball Fans

THERE is an epidemic of baseball fever in Humboldt County this year, and at least one hardware firm is making no attempt to curb the disease. In fact, Baker & Crosby are busy just now spreading the germs. It is rather a new firm, having taken over the old store of W. S. Clark & Sons a year ago last May, but already they are "old timers" to the boys who don the mask and glove. One of the salesmen in the store is the secretary of the local baseball organization, and the whole force boosts for the game. As a result the firm has furnished three sets of club uniforms this year and a world of other baseball paraphernalia. There are two leagues in the county, known respectively as the Humboldt League and the Northern California League. Naturally there is some rivalry, but the sport is clean and there is as much interest displayed over the games as there is in Chicago over the World's Series.

Cashing in on Free Information

BAKER & CROSBY are cashing in on the sporting interest or curiosity of Eureka fans in the following manner: Near the front of the store and close to the sporting goods department the firm maintains a large bulletin board on which is recorded the daily scores and the standing of the various clubs. Believe me, there is always someone scanning the totals and taking on baseball enthusiasm. At other seasons of the year information of various kinds is posted on the board. There are records of the best catches of fish, the best places to go, the condition of the roads, where the trout are biting best, or where the salmon are running. Naturally the fellow who comes in for a little free information usually takes somethin else with a profit attached and drops a little cash in the Baker & Crosby register.

The firm also makes a practice of furnishing the sportsman or tourist with free road maps, copies of the game laws and other information. They cultivate the good will of the younger ball fans by advertising in the high school papers and on the annual programs for field days. Also, whenever the ball clubs hold a dance or a reception they are always to be relied upon for a good-sized ad on the programs and announcements. Out in the ball park is a mammoth score board, and the firm has purchased advertising space on this board. On it they maintain an up-to-date sign at all times. This sign can be plainly seen from the main highway leading into Eureka from the south and serves a double purpose. Baker & Crosby carry over $500 worth of baseball goods and find the line a real money maker.

Money in Guns and Camping Equipment

THERE are myriads of ducks around Eureka in the proper season and quail are very plentiful. Also cotton-tails and jack rabbits are to be found in almost any direction. This creates a good market for shotguns and small rifles. There is also a live local trap-shooters organization, which insures the sale of many high-grade trap guns. Sometimes special guns are ordered, but usually Baker & Crosby have the required gun in stock at the time wanted. They sold about 150 shotguns last year at an average price of $35 each. Cheap guns are slow sellers in Eureka.

Rifles of all kinds are sold freely throughout the year and are used for hunting deer, bear, elk and mountain lion. The firm recently built a series of rather unique gun racks around the posts that run through the center of the store. Each rack holds about 24 guns and its attractiveness can be noted from our illustration.

Camping equipment is another of the big lines with this enterprising firm, which carries one of the most complete lines I have ever encountered.

All in all the sporting goods line is HARDWARE in HUMBOLDT, the big end of a big business, and the hardware dealers of Eureka are harvesting yearly crops of sporting dollars.

Whenever your sporting blood gets to tingling, take a tip from me and board a train for Eureka, Cal. Leave your rods and tackle at home. Eureka dealers will fit you out from hat to boots and from rod to reel. They are there for that purpose

The Sportsman's Bulletin is always on the job in Baker & Crosby's store

Dear Sir:

We have succeeded in procuring the agency of the new Carmen phonograph, the machine which has revolutionized the phonograph industry.

It gives, for the first time, every family an opportunity to hear and have correctly reproduced the music of the greatest musicians, singers, comedians, etc. If you haven't a machine in your house that makes all music and all artists your own, get the Carmen phonograph. No home is complete without music. Don't miss the most ideal form of entertainment and education.

Read the full description of the Carmen phonograph. Every item used in our machine is the best money can buy. Our cabinets are made in either genuine mahogany or quartered oak, fumed finish, and are made with the object of adding beauty to the home. The design, workmanship and finish of the Carmen machine is as good as can be found. No other cabinets are made with greater care. The panels are from five-ply laminated stock, which insures against cracking or warping. The record compartments are ample in size and very convenient for holding records.

These machines play all makes of records, and sell for from between 50 to 75% less than other high class phonographs of equal size. The tone of the Carmen is guaranteed to surpass that of all other phonographs.

Respectfully yours,

G. W. HUNTLEY & CO.

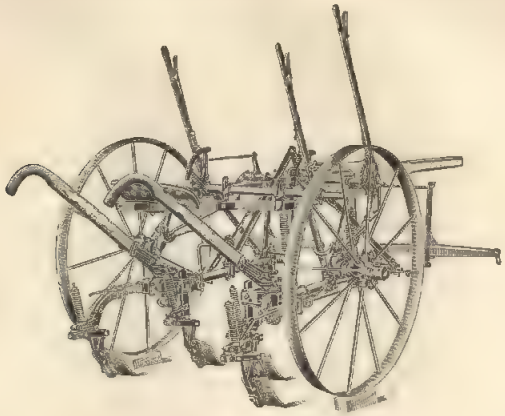
Fones Combined Riding and Walking Cultivator



A new style standard cultivator with a long frame that gives perfect balance. Can be recommended to give best service. Is strong without being excessively heavy. Has all needed adjustments and still is most simple in construction. A cultivator that can be depended upon year after year. Has two levers with springs and a balance lever. The gangs perform all the work between the wheels. The outside shovels do not project out into tracks of wheels as is customary on short frames.

Levers: The gang levers have saw toothed ratchets which give extremely fine depth adjustment and simplify their handling. Each gang can be regulated independently. The balance lever adapts the poise of machine to the operator, and also enables him to raise both gangs at once at ends of rows.

Seat: Adjustable, to suit weight or convenience of driver. Seat rails are jointed to permit seat to be thrown over out of way when operator prefers to walk.

Springs: These counterbalance the weight of gangs. Tension can be changed for light or heavy gangs.

Hitch: The hitch is low, direct to gangs, with high clearance in center.

Handles: Are adjustable to suit operator.

Wheels: Wheels are 42 inches in diameter, made with staggered spokes, wide bearings, and fitted with dust-proof boxes and compression grease cups for using heavy oil. Wheels are held on axles by linch pins inside the wheel caps.

Gangs: We furnish regular parallel four-shovel trip gangs, but can also furnish any style of standard gangs, any of which can be fitted to the frames. The points from which gangs are suspended are adjustable in and out, and the gangs always swing level, whether set for wide or narrow track.

Foot Lift: A foot lifting device enables the operator to raise gangs easily to clear them of trash and without affecting depth at which he is working the gangs—the gangs return to correct length as soon as released.

Cone Bearings: All gangs are equipped with improved couplings, which can be tightened from time to time, effectually taking up all looseness due to wear. Gangs can be set up or down on the cone pivots to level them for different depths of cultivation.

Pivot Tongue Attachment: These cultivators are built as rigid tongue machines, but can be built with pivot tongues at a slight additional cost. We can also furnish the Pivot Tongue Attachment for cultivators that have gone out with rigid tongues. Attachment is easily put on and, when not needed, the lever can be thrown forward out of the way, and when so placed locks the tongue.

Furnished with Neckyoke, Fenders, No. 8 Spreader and Concave Tire Wheels.

No. FC234—Adjustable pipe beam, flat legs, spring trip, four shovels (less shovels). Weight 400 pounds.....$____

Fones Walking Cultivator

On this cultivator the balance frame feature is secured by a backward bend or crank in axles, which throws wheels to the rear, shifting weight of machine forward about eight inches, sufficient to overcome tendency of tongue to fly up when gangs are raised.

Adjustable Arch: Poise of frame may be changed for light or heavy gangs. Wheels and gangs can easily be set for 34 to 44-inch track.

Spring Action: Regardless of weight of gangs used, the springs are easily adjusted to balance them so that operator finds gangs responsive to his lightest touch. The springs are hooked to yokes on gangs. These yokes have a series of notches which permit shifting pull of springs to cause gangs to work close to or away from rows without having to hold them there.

Gangs: The cultivators are here shown with four shovels, spring trip gangs, which are strong, heavily built and exceedingly popular. The shovel legs are rigidly fastened into malleable cross heads and can not work loose. Side rods connecting the cross-heads with gang couplings hold gangs parallel and compel shovels to work a uniform width as gangs are swung in and out. We can furnish promptly any type of gangs with these cultivators, four or six-shovel spring trip.

Gang Couplings: The gang couplings give gangs free play in all directions. Swivel sideways on cone pivots, can be tightened to take up any looseness that may occur from wear. Adjustment is also provided for setting the gangs up or down to draw level at different depths.

Clearance: High wide clearance enables operator to lay by after his crop gets far enough advanced to keep ahead of the weeds after it is laid by.

Evener: The evener pivots the draft both above and below the pole and is a perfect equalizer. The hitch is low, in line of draft, giving a straight pull on the gangs.

Wheels: The wheels are 30 inches in diameter, tires 2 inches wide. The spokes are hot riveted into tires and cast solidly in the hubs, which are equipped with removable dust-proof wheel boxes, with hard oil, dust-proof screw caps. Sand bands effectively prevent dust from entering the wheel bearings.

Fenders: Equipment includes fenders, which are crimped to stiffen them, and have adjustable arms so they can be set as desired.

Handles: Made of well seasoned oak, are adjustable to suit the operator.

Fones Cultivator Spring Tooth Attachment

Made Entirely of Steel
No Cast or Malleable Parts

Fits any make of cultivator using parallel gangs, with regular cross-head as above illustrated. The legs of the gangs are removed and the spring tooth brackets put on in their place and held with same bolt that holds the legs; easy to change.

The illustration shows our Spring Tooth Attachment, with the blades all in line, as they are usually used. But where ground is covered with rubbish, we recommend placing the spring tooth attachment zig zag, which can be done easily by simply reversing the spring tooth attachment, as shown above, to the opposite gang. This will give a clearance of about 18 inches between the two inside spring teeth and the two outside, and will offset any trouble due to rubbish covered ground.

We wish especially to call your attention to the fact that our spring tooth attachment is manufactured entirely from steel, no cast or malleable parts used. Double point blades are used that can be angled to throw the dirt in or out as desired by operator. The use of these double point shovels assures double life

Eight teeth with detachable blades. Teeth are round at lower end, blades have back with set screw. Blades adjustable up and down on round shank, within limit of four inches.

Farmers' Friend Combination Plow

The plow is an all steel combination plow, with 12 to 14 different combinations. It cuts from 9½ to 26 inches, according to the size of the wings. The point being spear head shape with an oval neck it enters the ground with ease and leaves the land in good condition for planting. The offset on each side of the point, not alone lessens the draft materially, but lets the loose dirt fall back into the bottom of the furrow to the depth of two inches.

The Farmers' Friend is a combination of the following: 10-inch turning plow, either right or left hand, 18-inch middle breaker, cotton scraper, side harrow, 6, 8, 10, 12 inch shovel, and 14, 16, 18, 20-inch sweep, also bull tongue and potato digger.

For breaking up land, use right or left hand turning wing. This will give about 12 to 16 inch cut.

For bedding up cotton land, use both turning wings as a middle breaker, which will make a complete bed on a 3½ to 4 foot furrow; this saves 3 furrows to the row.

For cultivating corn the first time, use 5-inch wing next to young corn, and the 9-inch wing next to middles.

After first plowing out corn, use the right and left 9-inch cultivating wings, saving the same labor as in first plowing.

For laying by, use the two 16-inch wings, or on narrow rows shorter wings, finishing each row at one furrow; this saves three-fourths the labor.

The same cultivation applies to cotton and similar products.

For level cultivating, the flat wings, running from 5 to 16 inches each, will save nearly one-half the labor and thoroughly cut up the soil and grass, and cover up the latter.

When planting on ridges, the moldboard or turning wings are used to throw up the ridge and to bed up cotton land.

This plow runs easy; is light draft, scours in any soil, and is suited for all classes of land.

"Gee Whiz" Spring Tooth Cultivators

Gee Whiz Cultivators can be used as Straight Cultivator—"A" Shaped Cultivator—"V" Shaped Cultivator Right Hand Side Harrow—Left Hand Side Harrow—Six-Tooth Harrow for Straddling Rows.

Gee Whiz Cultivators have come into general use in this section, due to their perfect work, strength, durability and many adjustments, adapting them to almost any kind of cultivating. The rigid frame and all steel quadrant insure long life. Steel beams are of square piping, the wood beams of choice oak 46 inches long. The side clevis is made entirely of steel and practically indestructible. By hitching the singletree in the outside hole of clevis and removing center tooth, these cultivators can be used to straddle row with the horse walking on one side.

The jerky, vibrating action of the well-tempered steel spring teeth causes blades to tear up and shake loose all roots of grass and weeds, leaving surface soil in a finely pulverized condition. Rigid or floating fenders and narrow twisted teeth furnished when desired at extra cost. Rigid fenders bolt directly to frame; the floating fenders suspend loosely on chains. Can be set any height. When cultivators are ordered with fenders the tooth removed to allow for it is also sent. Gauge wheel can be furnished on any style Gee Whiz Cultivator at extra cost.

Directions—Set in cool place on bench or shelf extended over edge high enough for pail to go under, pour fresh milk through reversed cover, add like amount of cold water or ice. In cold weather less water answers. When separation is complete (after two or three hours) first draw skim milk, then the cream, after which scald and sun-sweeten for next milking.

Nature's way, with only pure water added.

(Actual capacity is double milk capacity shown.)

Sheffield Plate

Plated or Nickel Silver

The term "Sheffield Plate" has its origin from the English town of Sheffield, where the process was first discovered of manufacturing ware from the base metals covered over by fusion with a layer of silver. The original "Sheffield Plate" is no longer made because later improvements have rendered the process obsolete. The term is now used to designate wares made from nickel silver, electroplated with pure silver, and following more or less faithfully the old English styles. The beauty of the wares, the toughness of the metal and their close similarity to sterling silver, have occasioned an unprecedented popularity.

In the following assortments of "Sheffield goods" many patterns are reproductions or adaptations of old English styles, others represent the best modern tendencies in design. Improved methods and enterprise on the part of the manufacturer enable us to offer these assortments at prices very little if any higher than those of ordinary plated ware. We guarantee that every article is made from heavy gauge nickel silver, durably silver plated and that the designs, values and the standard of quality are the best that the market affords

THE [OYB] INCUBATOR

This is a Guaranteed machine. It embodies every principle that has proven successful in incubator building.

We have kept in mind the thought that a poor incubator is worse than none, and that in making a good one no feature that would improve it should be overlooked.

Nothing has been spared in the [OYB] Incubator that would add to its efficiency.

The Heating System, the Insulation and Automatic Heat Regulator are based upon scientific principles and most sucessful practice.

In the Hot Water Heating Plant we use a genuine pure copper boiler and tubular copper tank. Better than steel or tin because no rust or leaking.

Th Lamp is dependable and insures constant heat.

The [OYB] Heat Regulator is Automatic and certain in maintaining even, accurate heat. No feature in an incubator is so important as this.

The Thermometer is a high grade scientific instrument, guaranteed accurate and much superior to ordinary incubator thermometers.

Of what value is any other feature unless the temperature is correct?

WHY [OYB] INCUBATORS ARE THE BEST

Strictly first class lumber, free from knots or defects of any kind is used. Will stand all kinds of weather and will not crack, split, warp nor pull apart.

The outside and inside walls are made of one inch thick California Redwood lumber, between the walls is placed a heavy layer of corrugated fibre board which produces a dead air space between the inner and outer walls. Walls are practically 2¼ inches thick so that the outside temperature has practically no effect on the temperature of the egg chamber and also is the reason why the [OYB] incubator can be easily heated at an even temperature all the time regardless of the outside temperature.

The doors are made of two thicknesses of one inch lumber and fitted to the case by expert mechanics. The inner section of the door has a small window with two panes of glass with a dead air space between them, the outer section of the door is solid which when closed provides a dark egg chamber. By opening the outer or solid door the thermometer can easily be read without exposing the eggs or chicks

THE REGULATOR

The [OYB] Regulator controls the temperature in the egg chamber perfectly.

When the wafer or thermostat (A) expands it forces up the needle (B) which presses against the adjusting screw (C) which lifts the damper (D) off the boiler allowing a certain amount of heat to escape from (D). When the temperature in the egg chamber falls the thermostat contracts and allows the damper (D) to come down on the boiler thus retaining the heat and keeping the temperature in egg chamber at the proper point at all times.

THE HEATING SYSTEM

This illustration shows the general construction of the heating system.

In the larger incubators cross pipes are used to add to the radiating capacity.

The radiating tank is supended above the egg chamber and the copper heating tank is outside the incubator in the galvanized iron jacket.

The heated water circulates constantly, insuring even temperature in the egg chamber.

THE LAMP SUPPORT

The lamp support is made of No. 28 Galvanized Steel is strong and substantial and will hold the lamp in its proper place.

This lamp support is a fire proof box or jacket for the lamp and no matter what happens to the lamp it would be impossible for fire to get to the incubator or to any part of the building or room in which the incubator is operated.

The lamp box also incloses the boiler in such a way that it prevents the cold air from coming in contact with the boiler, cooling it, and therefore requiring more fuel to heat the boiler, with this lamp box we are able to operate our incubators with much less fuel than we could if the boiler was exposed to the cold air of the room.

ALL STEEL INCUBATORS

Vulcan Power Lift Tractor Gang

Some Important Features

1. Frame adjustable for 12, 14 or 16-inch cut. 2. Rear wheel will not swing crosswise when gang is backed in furrow. 3. Great clearance between bottoms and under beams allows weeds, stalks and trash to pass without jamming. 4. Pulls straight behind tractor. 5. Plows corners well. 6. Plows perfectly as deep as 12 inches. 7. Enters readily and holds depth in hard ground. 8. Levers always forward within reach. 9. One man easily handles tractor and Vulcan gang. 10. Power lift is convenient to operate, gives quick, high and level lift. 11. Clutch is on axle and gathers no trash. Third beam and bottom may be added or taken off. 12. Heavy angle iron draw bar will not buckle when backing.

Vulcan Power Lift Tractor Gang

The latest design in plows for light tractors, a strictly one-man outfit that will quickly prove its worth. Levers are of just right length, pointed forward and located most conveniently for the tractioneer. They do not move from this position when the power lift operates. One lever determines depth of furrow, the other levels the plow so that all furrows are of equal depth.

The plow bottom was designed especially for tractor plowing. It does perfect work as deep as 12 inches or in shallower plowing. It inverts the furrow completely at either fast or slow tractor speed. It pulverizes the soil, leaving it in excellent condition for further preparation. It covers trash and weeds thoroughly and scours under most difficult conditions. It cleans the furrow completely, leaving a wide, clean, flat furrow bottom. The gradual easy curve of its surface makes it notably light in draft.

Plow can be backed; the rear wheel can never caster or swing around so far as to block plow when necessary to back. One man, without getting off tractor seat, can back plow on headlands, on road or out of an obstruction.

The Adjustable Frame is a big feature. It permits spacing of beams without added cost for parts so as to cut 16-inch furrows in the spring when the ground is easily handled and narrow down to 12 or 14-inch furrows in the autumn when the ground is hard and dry. The 14-inch spacing is for general use, the 12-inch for heavy soils and to turn smaller clods, while the 16-inch is for light soils.

The Vulcan Jointer Attachment is simple, strong and thoroughly effective. It is adjustable to any position and can be entirely removed from coulter if desired. It has reversible combined mold and point.

The Shares on this gang are of quick detachable type and can be furnished in hardened soft center g eel, solid crucible steel or chilled iron, as specified.

The Hitch is adjustable to fit any tractor and is strong enough to permit backing out from under a stump without bending.

The Beams are extra heavy, well reinforced at bend and protected from overstrain by a specially constructed spring trip release on the hitch. The heavy angle iron draw bar will not buckle in backing. The two-bottom plow may be readily connected into a three-bottom plow or the three-bottom plow into a two by the simple addition or removal of the third beam and bottom. The two-bottom plow may be converted into a one bottom by removal of second beam and bottom and the use of a few extra parts.

The Vulcan Power Lift shown above is simple, positive and direct in action. One pull on rope throws clutch into action and plows come out of ground in half a revolution of land wheel. Another pull and they are immediately forced down to full plowing depth. The Vulcan Power Lift never fails to operate because of slippage of drive wheel on the ground. Land wheel lugs are furnished, but are seldom required. The power lift operates directly on the land wheel axle by pushing it down. The furrow axles and wheels are forced down at the same time, thus lifting the plow high and level. After the power lift has been operated the bottoms can be lifted several more inches by the depth lever. This extra high lift is very useful.

Vulcan Sulky Plows

Made Right Hand Only in Sizes and Kinds Listed Below.

Simple, Strong and Durable

Most Easily Controlled

The Vulcan Sulky Plow Embodies Many Special Features, the Most Important Being Specified Below.

Simplicity

The Vulcan is one of the most simple and easily controlled Sulky Plows on the market. Everything necessary for doing excellent plowing with ease and comfort to the operator has been provided. Non-essentials have been omitted. Strength, lightness and long-wearing qualities have been provided. Its operation and adjustment are so simple that anyone capable of hitching and driving a team can do first-class plowing with The Vulcan. Once set for depth, a small boy can plow all day, as in making turns only the guide lever is changed and for that no strength is required.

Strength

All steel parts of high carbon steel, providing strength and rigidity with minimum weight. Levers of spring steel and will not bend. Steel bottoms built on drop forged steel saddles. Steel forgings used instead of castings, where possible. Large bolts and lock washers.

The Opening Furrow

The Vulcan will open a furrow five inches deep with the frame level. By raising land wheel and tilting frame a seven-inch furrow may be made.

Entering the Ground

The Vulcan Sulky enters the ground, point first, like a walking plow, has good penetrating qualities, stays in the ground well, even in hard ground, and is raised out point first, making it easy to handle.

Steady Plowing

Because of long beam, unusually high in throat, and rigid frame construction, the Vulcan will not "buck" or run unsteady as do some makes of sulkies and the plowman will not be worn out and sore after a day's steady plowing with the Vulcan. The frame, while rigid, permits of adjustment from 10 to 16-inch furrow and when once set can not slip or work loose.

Chilled Bottom, Weight About 500 Lbs. Each

No. 10—10-inch Cut } This Series uses regular Vulcan Points, Molds and Shins { $.....
No. 12—12-inch Cut }
No. 14—14-inch Cut }

Front Furrow Wheel

This wheel is angled into the furrow and controlled by a guide lever so that it holds plow up to the cut on hillsides or around bends in the furrow, or it may be used to straighten crooked furrows. To turn a square corner, either to right or left, this guide lever is thrown as far as possible away from operator.

Wheels

All wheels are provided with dust proof caps at the inner ends and grease caps at outer ends of hubs.

Rolling Landside

The rear wheel forms a rolling landside, set to give light draft and best plowing conditions. It can not be changed. So much of the good running of a sulky plow depends on a correct adjustment of the rear wheel that we take no chances of its becoming changed. This wheel is solid web, does not catch trash and has scrapers, both inside and out, to keep it clean. Both box and spindle are chilled iron and of large size, thoroughly dirt proofed and supplied with grease by a screw cap. This makes for unusually long life where most sulkies first show wear.

Cushion Spring

The land axle is provided with a cushion spring of improved construction, enabling one to plow across corn ridges without shaking the driver or disturbing the uniform depth of furrow.

Seat

The seat is of large size, providing for comfort, and is placed low so plowman can easily get on or off plow with the team moving. The driver's weight prevents the plow turning over on rough or hilly ground.

Balance

The seat is so placed that in raising the plow the driver does not raise his own weight. This, together with the long levers, makes the plow easy to operate.

Vulcan Subsoil Plows

Decreasing crops, due to the exhaustion of the top soil, has lately induced many farmers to experiment in subsoiling, and the good results attained in many instances have created a growing demand for a plow that will do the work well. The Vulcan is strong enough to withstand the extra strains peculiar to the work, has ample beam adjustment to permit one horse to walk in the furrow, following either a right or left hand plow. Breaks the soil at a uniform depth from two to five inches below the bottom of the turning plow furrow. It does the work with the least possible draft. Complete plow has 4-inch point, gauge wheel, wrench and extra 2-inch point.

STANLEY "BED ROCK"

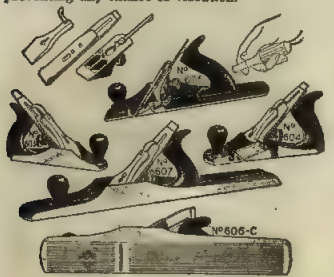
For fine work on hard and knotty wood, this plane surpasses all others.

The cutter, frog and bottom are so machined and fitted that they are practically one solid piece of metal, thus preventing any chance of vibration.



The frog travels in a groove, ensuring it being square with the mouth of the plane, and preventing shifting or "webbling."

The width of the mouth can be regulated by use of a screw driver as shown in the cut, without removing the cutter and lever.

The cutters are made of the best Englsih steel and are adjustable both endwise and sidewise.

The shape of the sides, a distinctive feature, adds greatly to the strength of the plane.

The handles and knobs are of rosewood and finely finished.

Bottoms either flat or corrugated (see No. 606C) as desired.

An improvement has been made in the "Bailey" Iron Plane which necessitated a change in the construction of the Bottom and Frog, thereby making it impossible to use the new style Frog in an old style Bottom, or the old style Frog in a new style Bottom.

For a time an intermediate style was made having same Frog and Bottom as the latest design, except that there was no Frog adjusting screw, consequently no clip on the Frog.

The latest design Frog or Bottom will be furnished for both the intermediate and new style Planes. If your Plane is of the intermediate pattern, remove the steel clip from the Frog and the parts will fit.

In order that we may fill your order correctly, kindly advise us which style Plane you have.

The difference in construction of the Frogs and Bottoms is very clearly shown in the illustrations above.

We do not carry pocket knife blades in stock. The illustrations shown on this page being reproductions of the different styles used in [OVB] pocket knives. Slight variations are made to adapt them to the different knives of which they form a part. All are made from Wardlow's Celebrated English crucible steel. Each blade is forged in the most approved manner by expert workmen. Great care is taken to avoid overheating the metal, the forging being done at a very low heat, thereby condensing the metal and making it extremely tough. The tempering is done by a new method which insures a uniform and lasting edge. All blades bearing the [OVB] trademark are carefully ground and finished. The shank is carefully shaped and finished. Every blade is inspected, whetted to a fine cutting edge and warranted to be free from flaws and neither too hard or too soft.

In material, workmanship and design, the [OVB] pocket knife blades are equal, if not superior to any made in this or any other country. They are and always have been the product of an American factory which has in its employ cutlers who have served thirty, forty and fifty years in their service.

ETCHING CUTLERY

Etching Department.

STYLES OF ETCHING

The very best way of increasing trade in pocket cutlery is through the dealer's advertisement on the large blade of his best knives. If this is done wisely, it establishes a reputation for all knives bearing the dealer's name, adding his reputation to that of the maker, and thus is a convincing argument to the quality of the article. The consumer is sure of a double guaranty, and if the brand is unknown, he at least knows that the dealer would not have his name on inferior goods. It is also a strong safeguard against theft. Several times every year we hear of stolen goods recovered which had been etched by us, the name on the blade identifying the knives and establishing evidence to convict the thieves. Numbers of our customers have informed us that they have been robbed, the thieves leaving the etched knives untouched.

Our etching department, beginning in 1896 in a very modest way, has grown to an important adjunct to our cutlery business. Our etchers have become artists in their work, having every appliance necessary or desirable to produce fine results.

Etching has become popular, and the public is quick to notice the enterprise of a dealer who has something new to offer.

We make no charge whatever for this work, feeling that we are amply repaid by the increased business the dealer is sure to give us in consequence of adding to the selling quality of his knives. Our only requirements are that a sufficient—not a large—quantity is ordered each time to warrant it, and that the goods are such that we as a firm would care to affix our guaranty.

We shall be glad to explain more fully through our representatives or by letter our position in this matter and show samples of the work.

No. 210. 14 Drawers.

Oak Front Drawers, Cherry Stained Case, Brass Pulls and Label Holders.

No. W150—10 drawers, 150 compartments, height 23 in., width 30 in., depth 16½ in., w't about 80 lbs. .....each $33.00

No. W210—14 drawers, 210 compartments, height 31½ in., width 30 in., depth 16½ in., w't about 100 lbs. ..each $38.00

These cases are designed especially for screws, small bolts and fittings. Each drawer is divided into fifteen compartments, size 2⅛x3⅛x3 in., with strong wood partitions. The spaces are large enough to hold a package of any size screws. The drawers are fitted with a safety appliance to prevent accidental dropping and spilling of contents.

With each case are furnished seven cardboard sheets of labels, marked so that they can be readily cut apart and exactly fit the holders supplied to each drawer. The long strips designating the class of goods can be attached to or between the drawers as desired. By putting all screws of a length in separate rows, this will allow five numbers for each. Stove bolts can be arranged in the same manner, 3/16 and 1 in. round and flat head being in one series of compartments. By this arrangement one large case can be used for several kinds of screws, stove and tire bolts; the balance of these goods being full packages on the shelves.

A Rink Skate at A Sidewalk Price

KOKOMO SKATES have many points of superiority over other makes. No one feature, no one bit of material and no one step in the process of manufacture is responsible for KOKOMO dominance.

The backbone construction and trussed axle insure rugged strength. The KOKOMO self-contained ball bearing wheel is infinitely more simple and vastly more satisfactory than the old style roller skate wheel. And the two large rubber bumpers on KOKOMO skates give them a resiliency and flexibility that no other manufacturer has been able to attain.

Let us tell you more about KOKOMO skates.

The wooden lower rub-board can be removed, without the loosening of any pins or bolts, to clean and ventilate machine after use. The superior points of this machine are: Patented detachable connections. No bolts, screws, or pins to manipulate. The lower cylinder can be easily and quickly removed to clean machine. Chamber where dirt accumulates is separated from clothes. No dirt churned up in the water, and kept with clothes, a sanitary feature. The rollers enable one person to move machine with ease. "Arkansaw Traveler" Washing Machines

Hand Power, Ball Bearing

This High Speed Washer is the very highest possible quality of construction and finish. The novel mechanical principles of construction, that is the double compound lever, with walking beam connection, not only equalizes power but reduces friction ½ to ⅓ that of any other high speed washing machine. The ball-bearing used is simple, set up in vaseline, so that it will not need oiling for years and is without question, the easiest running bearing used on a washing machine. It is simple and can not get out of order. In operation, this machine runs so easily and fast that the usual terrors of wash day are dissipated. The tub is made of the best quality of selected Southern cypress which will last longer and give better satisfaction in a washing machine than any other wood. The tub is finished nicely with good quality of varnish and is very strong in construction, the stave legs being well braced to prevent breakage. All gears are underneath the tub, and every metal part made extraordinary heavy and strong, electro-galvanized or sherrardized.

The AYSEEBEE Electric Lighting System

A plant shipped in a single unit and can be used with any good farm engine. It comes all set up. All you have to do is to connect house lighting lead wires to marked terminals on switch board.

Absolutely safe and economical to operate.

It furnishes a steady, bright light. A simple, practical and durable plant.

There is a little light-reading for you farm... who doesn't like to be left in the dark. We mean the man who has found the world moves and that it pays to move right along with the world. He's a very wide-awake individual knows there's something in crop rotation... if his grandfather didn't think so, owns an automobile, takes the kids to the movies regular... it's an education, lets his machinery do as much of his work as he can not because he's lazy but because it pays.

The "AYSEEBEE" Lighting Plant will save enough make his house a lighthouse and the wife's housekeeping lighthouse-keeping.

Think of it... Instead of stumbling around the barn at night ramming into stray pitch forks and swearing every time the lantern blows out—you snap on the barn light from the house.

Then there's the back-breaking job of turning the churn—and grindstone—and separator... Your "AYSEEBEE" plant will do that for you. And operate the mixmaster, washer, vacuum cleaner and iron.

Don't think a "AYSEEBEE" plant is any "engineering proposition" because it's so simple a school boy could make light of it! It even comes to you set up—all you have to do is connect it to the house wires. The electric light it makes is brilliant, clean, safe and economical.

your sewing machine and your washing machine, it will heat your electric iron—in a hundred ways it will lighten your work and your wife's, making life more happy and enjoyable for the whole family.

Instead of a complicated apparatus it is a simple unit, with battery, generator and switchboard, already assembled and set up at the factory. It can be installed by any inexperienced person and operated by any member of the family; there are no automatic devices that will sooner or later require attention, nor is another engine needed to run it. Just hitch your engine to it and you have all the power you need at a special engine. The "AYSEEBEE" means economy from every point of view.

In the dairy barn electric light is even more necessary if possible, than in the home. Every year thousands of barns go up in smoke, with great loss of stock, because of the use of the oil lantern. If you have been "lucky" so far, insure your luck by replacing the dangerous lantern with electric light.

In the power from a "AYSEEBEE" unit you have always at your command a most useful "hired man," handy, tireless and always on the job. It will run your cream separator, your churn, your pump,

The "AYSEEBEE" plants are all rated on the 8-hour basis. That is, the battery capacity is large enough to furnish the full number of 15 watt lamps specified in each plant for eight hours on one charge of the battery, or double the number of lamps can be burned from the combined capacity of the battery and generator.

All the above plants may be used to run fans, small motors and other electrical appliances, using a proportionate amount of power.

DOLLS

The greatest percentage of sales in toys rests with the doll line. It is a big selling item and by getting the right goods at the right price doll selling is an easy game because guaranteed goods make it so.

Our Dolls are made of a non-breakable composition and fully guaranteed by the manufacturers with ordinary care and usage. They are jointed with japanned rust-proof springs. The child can throw these dolls in the water and bathe them without danger of inside springs rusting, and the hair is sewed on (not glued on), and they do not get sticky and are odorless when being washed, which features are not to be found in other makes. The wigs on Dolls are mohair in blonde and Tosca or brown shade.

De Vry Portable Moving Picture Projectors

Closed Ready For Use

FOR THE HOME, CHURCH, SCHOOLS, COLLEGES, HOSPITALS, LODGES, CLUBS, Y. M. C. A. AND GENERAL USE.

Professional Quality—Operates From Any Electric Socket.

DE VRY TAKES STANDARD SIZE REELS AND FILMS.

Has a capacity up to 1,000 feet regulation size reels and film enabling you to obtain an unlimited supply of subjects for every purpose, educational, entertainment, industrial or the home.

IN THE HOME—INSTRUCTION AND AMUSEMENT COMBINED.

The application of motion pictures to the home life opens vistas of joy and amusement. Events in the family life which possess sufficient sentimental importance to warrant it, may be re-created at will

IN THE CLUB ROOMS.

Every well regulated club should have facilities for motion picture exhibitions. Club events are made more entertaining, no matter what the occasion, by the use of motion pictures.

SUCCESSFUL IN SCHOOLS

I wish to state that your little portable machine serves a very important place in our school organization. We have four centers equipped for use of motion pictures. At two of these centers we use standard machines, at two others we use machines which require a special film. The use of special films, of course, is not always satisfactory. The De Vry Machine makes it possible to use standard film in a very satisfactory way at the school where we do not have a standard machine. The De Vry machine can play a very important part in the educational program of any school.

We have fifty of them in use under varied conditions and have yet to receive a serious complaint in regard to any of them.

We have utilized one machine to the extent of projecting 50,000 feet of film through it each week, and under this severe test the machine stands up admirably. We have used the machines just about a year.

FORD MOTOR COMPANY.

NEVER OUT OF ORDER

The De Vry Projector has given entire satisfaction at our Hadley Settlement House.

We have never had to return it to the factory for repairs in the year we have owned it.

The children, who are good critics of the "movies," consider the pictures clear and satisfactory, so we are satisfied. With a more [illegible] machine.

THE PHILIP SLETTINGER HOUSE.

STANDS UP UNDER STRESS

I have used the De Vry Portable Projector in home, shop, theater, auditorium and outside work, and have found it to meet every need. The educational value which this machine has had in our work cannot be overestimated, because it has been one of the chief methods of attracting the general laity. With the De Vry equipment, I have been able to get in touch with a larger group of people than would have otherwise been possible. The mechanism of the machine is very simple and still very complete. It has stood up under the stress and strain which, undoubtedly, it could not have done had it not been constructed in the best manner.

TYPE C-90—This type will project a 12-foot picture at any distance from 50 feet to 80 feet according to the focal length of lens.

A 4-inch lens, which is the standard equipment on all Projectors, will give you any size picture up to 12 feet in diameter, any throw up to 50 feet. Proportionately smaller size pictures at throws less than 50 feet.

A 6-inch lens will give you any size picture up to 12 feet at any throw up to 80 feet.

With this type you cannot stop on a picture as it is equipped with a fire shutter. The optical system is different than the Type C-3; is the most efficient to use in any projection apparatus now made. There is a small dimmer directly in back of the lamp house which is connected up in series with the lamp, enabling you to vary the illumination to suit the size of picture, throw, density of the film or darkness of the room. The total current consumption does not exceed 500 watts, so that it can be attached to the ordinary light socket.

Type C-90 100 to 125 volt, A. C. or D. C. Weight, 20½ lbs., motor-drive. Dimensions, 17x17x7 inches over all. Takes standard size reels and film 1000-foot capacity. Price.....$425.52

TYPE C-3—This type will project any size picture from a few inches in diameter up to 8 feet in diameter at any throw from a few feet up to 35 feet. All focusing, framing, starting, motor-control and illumination is controlled from the outside of the case. The film is rewound by the motor in the Projector.

Nothing has been spared to make the De Vry everything the user will ask of it—the highest quality projection combined with extreme small size and light weight. All the working parts of the De Vry are built of steel or bronze.

One-Horse Cultivators

Truckers Five-Tooth Cultivators

Frame painted green, striped red, and handles varnished. Frames have extra holes to admit converting it into a seven-tooth cultivator. The standards are adjustable, so as to give the blades different degrees of pitch. The two sets of handle braces hold the handles rigid and stiffen the cultivator. The frames are extra long to avoid clogging in narrow rows, and the standards are of extra height, which makes the cultivators of very light draft.

Corn and Cotton Planters and Scrapers

No. 45 Corn and Cotton Planter

All bearings, wheel hub and neck of gear case, through which drive shaft passes, are made of chilled white iron, too tough to break and chilled against wear. The frame is made of hard forged steel, no wrought iron or soft steel being used and the result is a frame that will stand severe usage.

The Spring Device for throwing planter out of gear is an important feature. It serves as a buffer for the drive shaft, and in case of cotton stalks, lint or trash catching in gear, relieves the shaft sufficiently to permit the trash to feed through the gears without even momentarily interfering with the planting and without the slightest additional strain on any of the parts.

Drive Wheel Gear—The gear in drive wheel is detachable and should it become worn can be easily replaced. The gear is bolted securely to the wheel. The wearing parts of the wheel being chilled, insures long life.

Corn Planter Attachment—Very simple and reliable. Will not crack nor bruise the corn.

Equipment—Five corn plates with ⅝-inch holes; one plate for kaffir or broom corn, sorghum, milliet, etc.; two-hole plate drops 38 inches apart; three-hole plate drops 25 inches apart; four-hole plate drops 19 inches apart; five-hole plate drops 15 inches apart; six-hole plate drops 12½ inches apart; eight-hole plate drops 9½ inches apart; one cotton feed plate or agitator. Each

Cone Bearing The drive wheel does not turn on the rod, but on the cone bearing, which is chilled iron, as is the hub of the wheel. These chilled parts do not wear like ordinary cast iron, but should last for years The rod passes through the cone bearing and serves only to hold the frame together.

Cotton Plate—Made of malleable iron; the flow of the seed may be absolutely regulated to sow from four quarts to two bushels per acre. Two stirring rods prevent clogging of seed and assist in regulating the flow.

No. 45—Complete with extension hopper, cotton bottom, five sizes corn plates, one sorghum plate, one double pointed shovel and two coverer knives. Weight 120 pounds.....$ ...

Carolina Cotton Planters

With saw tooth agitator. Cut-off feed lever to regulate flow of seed. Chain feed, having a sprocket wheel and chain instead of a pitman. Corrugated steel wheel, blunt edge. Each

No. 9—Carolina. Weight 57 pounds. .....$ ...

Dow-Law Cotton Planters

The Avery "Dow-Law" planter is the original of this type. The corrugated steel wheel with broad blunt edge is a popular and patented feature. It won't break or split. Adjustable opener to regulate depth of planting. Springboard coverer has the best of spring-steel springs. Furnished with covering blades on springs instead of covering board, when specially ordered. Each

No. 7—Dow-Law. Weight 52 pounds.....$ ...

Avery Combination Scrapers and Sweeps

The gauge wheel guides the plow so that it is easily handled. Beam and handles varnished. Beam 2⅛x3⅛x50 inches long. An excellent tool. Besides being useful on a farm for sweeping and scraping cotton, it is superior for gardening and truck farming. Each

"Pet" Guano Distributers

The wheel is made of steel, held firmly in place by flanges and braces. The hopper is strongly braced to beam and has ample capacity. The cut-off is of an improved pattern, easily and accurately adjusted by lever at rear of hopper. The feed fingers are set on a square shaft and carefully fitted so that best possible results are assured. The chain tightener prevents chain from slipping or coming off. Each

The Oiling System is Automatic!

The Automatic Oiling System is another feature back of the national reputation of the Crystal Electric Washer which makes it unmistakably more attractive to the housewife.

The favorable opinion of the Crystal Washer held by the women of this country may seem offhand to be based on general impressions—but deeper investigation soon brings home the fact that it is firmly founded on an almost universal acknowledgment of the Crystal's simplicity and mechanical superiority.

Every day you are reminded of the constantly increasing interest in electric washing—you sense it in talking to the women of your own community.

If you are seriously interested in making preparations to turn this rapidly developing demand into dollars in your bank account you will be a keen reader of the New Crystal Merchandising Book—a mine of plans and ideas for the man who sells washing machines.

BLENCOE LAWN MOWERS

A medium priced mower, graceful in outline, light in weight, yet strongly constructed, with best quality materials and workmanship throughout. Cutter bar bed plate planed to true surface, so stationary knife can be firmly riveted to it and have a perfect and even bearing. This together with the fact that the reel is a perfect cylinder produced by accurate grinding, insures a smooth cut lawn. Adjusting screws of cutter bar operated from top and against a finger extending from main body of bar, making it impossible to spring bar, as in adjustments where the two screws act against each other on either side of a pivotal point. Both screws being on top, it is necessary to turn mower upside down for adjusting.

Decoration—Empire red and gold bronze.

9 in. drive wheels turning on steel bearings, four revolving blades of crucible steel. Thoroughly hardened and self-sharpening, 5½ in. reel, shrub guard, reel bearings equipped with a lock nut screw device for taking up all wear.

5th Annual Beginners' Day,—
How It Helps the Dealer

BEGINNERS' Day is the time when the "Learn-to-Shoot" idea becomes a dollars-and-cents reality to dealers in guns, ammunition and sporting goods. The Du Pont Company continually advertises Trapshooting,—"the Sport Alluring." Those who have read our ads welcome Beginners' Day as the opportunity to learn to shoot—and thousands each year are introduced to the traps at these events.

We cooperate with gun clubs everywhere in promoting Beginners' Shoots to create new shooters and of Dupont, Ballistite and Schultze powders—the choice of beginners and experts. Every new shooter means a prospective buyer of other goods in your store.

Be a Booster! Talk Beginners' Shoots. They are held in June and July. Work with your local gun club for a big Beginners' Day. If there is no organized club—write us.

The Hibbard is so designed that a small amount of effort will secure the maximum result in a very short time.

---

In use, hot suds are put in up to the marked water line together with the same quantity of clothes which are handled in the ordinary washer. The lid is closed, the lever set in motion and when the plunger head comes above the water line, its chambers are filled with air which is forced out through the fibers of the clothes on the downward stroke. On the upward movement a vacuum is formed in the plunger which sucks the suds back through the garments with a force which brings out all the dirt at a remarkable speed. This vacuum system is rapidly gaining recognition as the most efficient method of cleaning.

Red Louisiana tub, grained, corrugated interior, double top, hinged cover, strong wringer attachment, double handle socket, cross braced legs, absolutely rigid.

The REVONOC lever arrangement is such, that the machine, when full, may be operated by a child, and the motion is such, as not to grow tiresome when continued. The fly wheel makes seven revolutions to one downward thrust of the lever. The compound gearing together with the rapid motion of the fly wheel insures a uniform and non-jerking operation of the machine. The top is made double which eliminates warping, and the metal parts are simple and strongly made.

Kiddie Horses

The Kiddie Horse is a toy especially adapted for the child, girl or boy, too small for an auto or hand car. It can be used equally as well indoors as outdoors, for the wheels are rounded, to eliminate scratching of the floor. This toy is nicely finished to resemble a horse; has a head with imitation bridle painted on it and supports made to resemble legs. The steering apparatus is fitted with a cone bearing, making it easily steered and eliminating wobbling. The toy is operated as illustrated, the child sitting on it and pushing with his feet, guiding himself wherever he wishes.

We have two grades, one of these is a higher quality Kiddie Horse equipped with wood rubber tires. These are made from higher grade lumber which takes an excellent finish and makes a really beautiful article.

The plain wood and rubber tired Kiddie Horses come in three sizes according to height from floor which can be determined by measuring with the child in a comfortable sitting position.

REAL CAMERAS—Reliable, Simple in Construction and Surprisingly Low in Price. That's what those who have bought and used them think of KEWPIE KAMERAS.

That a camera be reliable is perhaps the most important consideration—and you can always depend on a KEWPIE to get the picture. That is why it has been such a favorite with amateurs and the surprisingly large number of owners of high priced cameras who have also bought them.

It would be hard to find a camera more simple in construction. Everything essential to the making of good pictures is built right into the KEWPIE, and everything which is not absolutely essential has been left out. The shutter is automatic and always ready for use. It requires no "setting." KEWPIES need not be focused. They are "fixed focus" cameras. No adjustments whatever need be made. Just press the button and the picture is taken. Each lens is carefully fitted and adjusted to the camera in which it will be used. That accounts for the sharpness of detail found in KEWPIE pictures.

All KEWPIE KAMERAS are identical in general design and quality. They differ only in size.

Wonderfully Complete Equipment

Kewpie Kameras are fitted with fine single achromatic lenses designed especially for them and manufactured in our own lens factory. They are provided with four diaphragm openings, or stops, by means of which the depth of focus may be regulated or exposures adapted to varying degrees of light. They are equipped with automatic rotary shutters, making both time and instantaneous exposures, very simple in construction, positive in action and easy to operate.

Kewpie Kameras, except the No. 2, are equipped with two brilliant finders, one for horizontal pictures and one for vertical pictures. The No. 2 also has two finders, but they are of the ground glass and mirror style.

Kewpie Kameras No. 3 and No. 3A are each provided with two tripod sockets, one for horizontal pictures and one for vertical pictures. The No. 2, No. 2A and No. 2C Kewpies have no tripod sockets, but time exposures may be made by resting the camera on any steady support.

AUTOMATIC REELS

"MEISSELBACH"

This new automatic reel has patented clutching device which prevents breakage of springs in event of letting spool run down rapidly to limit without break on. Reel so constructed it requires only removal of two screws to take entire mechanism apart. This makes it easy to clean reel, oil or put new springs in whenever obliged to do so. Heavy gears used throughout.

Reel is used on reel-seat below hand grasp. Particularly desirable for brook or fly fishing for bass, where line has to be lengthened, and shortened so many times in fishing around brush, etc. A fish once hooked can never get any slack line if finger is kept on brake lever. The reel will then do the rest.

No. 81—Made of solid metal, special aluminum alloy instead of soft sheet stamped aluminum, will hold 150 feet "G" enameled line, diam. of spool 2⅜ in., width 7/16 in., w't 11 oz. .....per dozen $168.00

AUTOMATIC REELS

No. 82—Will hold 100 yds of line or a short line may be used with equal convenience. It is automatic for about 150 feet. If properly handled it is impossible for the reel to get out of order. The spring has a friction relief at both ends so that it can be run down with any amount of force without any danger of breaking it. The springs are all well tested and guaranteed, w't each 7 oz., per dozen .....$99.00

MARTIN AUTOMATIC REELS

Drums for above reels are made from a special grade of aluminum, reinforced on the inner rim by a collar of hard brass. Main spring is made of the best spring steel, the end of each spring being tempered by hand Lock Brake is made of brass. These reels packed one in a box.

No. 1M—Standard Martin Fish Reels especially adapted for trout fishing and is called a "Creek Whipper". This is the smallest of the Martin Reels and carries 75 feet of G line. No lock brake on this reel as for light fishing it is not necessary. Largest diameter 3⅜ in., depth 1⅜ n., w't 9 oz.
per dozen .....$73.90

No. 2M—Is the second reel in size and is considered a small size has the lock brake attachment. Carries 90 feet of G line. Largest diameter 3 5/16 in., depth 1⅜ in., w't 10 oz.
per dozen .....$78.00

HOW TO ORDER

Ladders as Nos. 1 and 2 give the exact height from floor to top of base shelf; the exact width or projection of base shelf and then the exact height from top of base shelf to top of shelf to which track is to be fastened and the track shall be fastened to a shelf that is about 3 feet from the top.

Steel track for ladders No. 1, both regular and extra strong, is 1 inch in diameter and therefore does not block up any space when fastened up opposite the edge of shelf. When ordering steel track give the total length of each line of shelving; second, give distance from center to center of uprights and state how many brackets are required to hold up the steel track. For regular steel track the brackets cannot be more than 4 ft. apart. When the uprights to which brackets are to be fastened are more than 4 ft. apart, it is necessary to use extra strong steel track.

Ladder No. 10, give the exact height from floor to top of base; the width or projection of base and then the exact height from base to the top of shelving or cornice on top of which track is to be fastened. Also state how much the cornice or moulding on top of which track is to be fastened, projects out over lower part of shelving.

Trolley ladder No. 15, is only necessary to give the exact height from floor to ceiling and the exact length of each line of track wanted.

To order wood track for ladders Nos. 2 and 10, it is only necessary to state the number of feet required.

For further information write for special Rolling Ladder Catalogue.

To order ladders as Nos. 1 and 2 give the exact height from floor to top of base shelf; the exact width or projection of base shelf and then the exact height from the top of base shelf to the top of shelf to which track is to be fastened and the track should be fastened to a shelf that is about three feet down from the top.

To order steel track for ladder No. 1, if track is to be longer than 18 feet, two or more lengths are to be joined together and as joints ought to meet over brackets it is therefore important that measurements are sent us as follows: First, give the entire length of each line of shelving; second, measure from one end of shelving to the center of an upright that is nearest to but inside of 18 feet. # MYERS CUSHION TIRE STORE LADDERS

No. F20—Ladder and Trolley complete, average w't 60 lbs.★ .....each $30.00 40.00

No. F30—Track, complete with hangers, w't per ft. 2¼ lbs.★ .....each $0.45 $0.60

Do not forget to give height of ceiling. If height of ceiling varies give the height at each end and center of each run of track. Give length of each run of track.

DESCRIPTION

The track is the well known double angle steel rail, which is very neat and strong, and is suspended from ceiling by means of lag screws, either jointed or rigid or by flanged plates and wood screws. By this means the track is placed close to the ceiling and can be leveled on an uneven ceiling without the least trouble, and without any blocking or bridging, as is the case in many other tracks.

The ladder is constructed of the best clear Georgia pine, nicely finished, filled and varnished, has open panel sides 5 in. wide, steps 5 in. wide. Each step is supported at each end with a special malleable dowel tee, which makes the strongest construction possible. The width of the ladder is 12 in.

The trolley is self-adjusting and made of malleable iron, fitted with turned steel bearings and 3 in. anti-rattler wheels turned and bored on lathe and fitted with special rubber tires.

The floor travelers are 5 in. in diameter, composed of metal sides with rubber cushion tires clamped in such a position as to be impossible to get off or come loose. These wheels are placed on a steel axle which revolves with one of the wheels, the other running loose In this manner the ladder will adjust itself to the floor With this style trolley, which is noiseless, a great objection in other ladders is overcome.

When the ladder is too long for ceiling, cut off at the bottom and replace the lower traveler shaft by boring new holes at the proper point so as to have the steps of the ladder level.

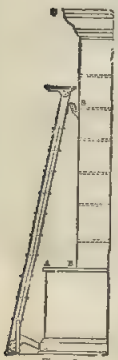

Figure 3.

Bicycle ladders have but two wheels, the track is at the bottom, either on the base shelf or on the floor, so that the entire weight of the ladder and operator is supported from below on a solid foundation and not suspended, holding operator and ladder in perfect balance and eliminating all liability of the ladder sagging the shelving.

A light turned pole guides the upper end of the ladder in moving it. Stout hooks fit over this pole to prevent the ladder from tipping backwards, but not a pound of weight rests on the pole.

Operator stands directly over the wheels, there is no side friction at all and ladder travels as easily as any other bicycle.

The noiseless rail is yielding and resilient, absorbing all vibration due to operation of ladder.

The auto ladder requires no track but runs on flat wheels.

It can be set at any angle or pushed close to the shelving when not in use It is particularly adapted to short runs, cramped spaces or sloping, uneven floors. The adjusting feature allows guide rail to be placed opposite a shelf regardless of being parallel with the floor.

Track.

No. F22—Steel bronze rail, japanned brackets, special pole★ ..... per foot $0.40

Myers' Trolley Ladders

Self-adjusting. Malleable iron trolley. Clear Georgia pine ladder, nicely varnished. Rubber tired trolley wheels and floor travelers.

The Track is double angle steel rail, which is very neat and strong, and is suspended from ceiling by means of lag screws, either jointed or rigid or by flanged plates and wood screws. By this means the track is placed close to the ceiling, and can be leveled on an uneven ceiling without the least trouble and without any blocking or bridging.

The Trolley is self-adjusting and made of malleable iron, fitted with turned steel bearings and 3-inch anti-rattler wheels, turned and bored on lathe and fitted with special rubber tires.

The Ladder is constructed of the best clear Georgia pine, nicely finished, filled and varnished; has open panel sides 5 inches wide, with 5-inch steps. Each step is supported at each end with a special malleable dowel tee, which makes the strongest construction possible. The width of the ladder is 12 inches.

The Floor Travelers are 5 inches in diameter, composed of metal sides with rubber cushion tires, clamped in such a position as to be impossible to get off or come loose. These wheels are placed on a steel axle which revolves with one of the wheels, the other running loose. In this manner the ladder will adjust itself to the floor. With this style trolley, which is noiseless, a great objection found in other ladders is overcome.

The Rubber Tires used on Myers Store Ladders are made of a specially prepared rubber, shaped according to patented design, and are held securely in position by the wheel castings. By means of these rubber tires the ladder is made practically noiseless. They also do away with any jar or unpleasant sensation in running the ladder over an uneven surface.

The Trolley Wheel is used on the overhead track. It is 3¼ inches in diameter. It is made of two parts which clamp around the enlarged portion of the rubber tire, and are held together by means of a nut and strong thread, holding the tire securely in position and preventing it from expanding or getting out of position under any circumstances. The wheel revolves on a turned steel axle.

The Floor Wheel is constructed exactly the same as the trolley wheel above described. It is 5 inches in diameter.

IMPROVED CUTLERY SHOW CASES

FLOOR DISPLAY CASES

Our FLOOR DISPLAY CASES FOR CUTLERY are thoroughly hand made from natural oak and are of NATURAL OAK FINISH, highly hand polished.

The top is ¼ in. bevel French plate glass laid in plush on green felt cushions, selected double strength glass front and ends and glass sliding dust-proof doors in the back that move on ball bearings and steel track.

The inside has 10 in. and 14 in. paneled oak shelves, the front edges of which are fitted with an oak lip extending ¼ in. above the shelf proper to prevent the goods from being pushed off the shelves, these shelves are supported by adjustable nickel plated brackets, cloth lined paneled bottom.

One of the latest improvements in these cases are the steel strength mitered joints, which means that the mitered joints in our cases are reinforced with steel, making the weakest part the strongest—this is a most important point to be considered.

Made either knockdown or set up and of standard measurements, 42 in. high, and 26 in. wide outside dimensions.

These cases are a great improvement over the most cutlery cases made, and are both handsome and convenient. The case has a 2¾ in. green silk plush covered base running around inside at bottom, each case furnished with individual silk plush top boxes for pocket knives, razors and shears. These boxes made to hold one dozen of each article, with handsome plush top on which to exhibit the samples. The case is of the best material and workmanship, lettered as per illustration. The sliding mirror doors do away with the drawer and swinging doors as used in the old style cases, which proved very inconvenient, especially where the space behind the counter was limited. The price of the show case is not figured or added to cost of goods at all. We place the best price on our cutlery at which we can sell the goods separately, and the case we furnish with the idea of giving our customers a case which will prove a useful ornament to their stores and valuable in assisting them in selling goods and keeping the stock in good order and complete.

HARDING "PATROL"

Approved and Labeled by the National Board of Underwriters.

Station Box, Showing Key in Position.

Clock, Showing Leather Pouch and Strap.

The following points are unique with the Harding Patrol System.

Clock—Contains no recording mechanism—nothing but movement, Detective lock and guide for key. Detective lock punctures paper dial both when clock is opened and closed, guarantee against tampering.

Movement Interchangeable—Can be replaced in a few moments' time.

Patent Station Key—Is the vital part of this system. Mechanism in key is simple, protected from weather, dust and tampering. Can only be made with an expensive special set of tools, so that duplication is practically impossible. Each set produces a different record so that no duplicate sets are made; accomplished by using portion of firm name, or any word or words desired. Each key embosses one letter on paper dial.

A 12-hour paper dial ordinarily used because record is more distinct. 24-hour dials furnished when specified.

There is no limit to the number of stations that may be used with one clock. Additions may be made at any time, with no re-arrangement or interruption in the service.

In the "Alert" clock system the registering mechanism is a part of the clock. The registering key is raised in a direct line against the matrix in the clock when it embosses the record. This eliminates the turning of the key and the wear on the embossing character on the key, thereby prolonging the life of the matrix and the key.

The "Alert" clock may be had with any number of stations from one to thirty-two as may be required, additional stations may be added until the total number reaches thirty-two.

DODGE SPECIAL RAYFIELD CARBURETORS

The special RAYFIELD Carburetor for the Dodge car is the standard "Model M" RAYFIELD, particularly suitable to the Dodge motor, insuring the greatest possible efficiency and economy.

A special RAYFIELD Carburetor on a Dodge car is guaranteed to make it start easier, accelerate faster, throttle lower, develop more power and speed, and save from 20% to 50% in fuel.

The "Model FG" is a double-jet water jacketed carburetor. It has only two adjustments, one for low speed and the other for high, both controlling the supply of gasoline.

The RAYFIELD has a dash pot construction which injects additional gasoline (only when it is needed) when the motor is accelerated. This makes it possible to use an extremely economical running mixture and still have the very fast get-away and maximum power.

A Dash or Steering Post Control is furnished with all RAYFIELD carburetors. This control raises the nozzle needle, supplying a richer mixture for cold weather and cold motor conditions. When pulled up the entire distance it also engages the RAYFIELD primer (built integral with the carburetor) making possibble utmost ease in starting even in the coldest weather.

The model "L" is furnished with a jacket around the throttle, which can be connected with the hot water when a circulating pump is used, and a bend for taking warm air from around the exhaust manifold into initial air opening of the carburetor, by means of the hot air drum and tubing.

NOTE—In Ordering Repair Parts for Carburetors Always State Size.

The MODEL "R" Carburetor is for use on both four and six cylinder motors. It is a single jet raised needle type of carburetor, automatic in action. The air valve controls the lift of the needle and automatically proportions the amount of gasoline and air at all speeds. This carburetor is designed with an adjustment for low speed; as the speed of the motor increases, the air valve opens, raising the gasoline needle and automatically increasing the amount of fuel. There are two adjustments, the low speed needle adjustment, which is made by turning the air valve cap, and an adustment on the air valve spring for changing its tension. An eccentric operated either from the steering column or from the dash, which acts on the needle valve and insures easy starting. By raising the needle from the seat in this way, an extremely rich mixture is furnished for starting, and for heating up the motor in cold weather. A choker in the air bend is also furnished.

AIR VALVE CONTROLS

The Dashboard Controls for the air control of the carburetor should be attached in some convenient place on the dashboard of the car. The steering column control should be installed on the steering post. In making these installations it is sometimes necessary to use a bell crank to take care of some offset in the line of connection. As the steering column control is made with different sized bands for attaching, the circumference of the steering post should be given. The steering column control is furnished standard with five feet of tubing and wire. Both types of dashboard controls are furnished standard with three feet of tubing and wire.

The product of a factory that builds the entire machine including the MOTOR.

The efficiency and durability of the motor and the detailed construction of the NOZZLE mechanism are the two fundamental features of a Vacuum Cleaner.

The "Bee" Line Motors with which these machines are fitted have a national reputation and are used by a number of the largest manufacturers. The horizontal motor is 1/6 horse power and is provided with an air cooling device and self-feeding oil wells, which allow it to run indefinitely without heating up, and requires very infrequent oiling.

The Nozzle construction, a detail of which is shown below, is the very best. The gear-driven brush will get the lint and litter.

The "Bee" Cleaner Retails $32.50

Our List Price $53 20

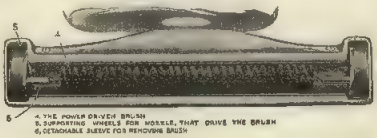
All castings on the "Bee" cleaner are made of polished aluminum and will last a lifetime without rust or deterioration. Note the pistol grip handle containing control switch.



A, THE POWER DRIVEN BRUSH
B, SUPPORTING WHEELS FOR NOZZLE, THAT DRIVE THE BRUSH
C, DETACHABLE SLEEVE FOR REMOVING BRUSH

No vacuum cleaner will take up lint and threads that have been tramped into the nap of a carpet, without a brush to loosen them. We illustrate here the gear driven brush and the supporting wheels in the nozzle that drive it, with which the "Bee" cleaner is equipped.

This brush is driven by the wheels which support the body of the cleaner, on the same principle as the highest grade carpet sweepers. The wheels are connected to the brush by small metal gears so that the brush revolves in the opposite direction from which the machine is moving. There has never been anything designed for surface cleaning which is superior to the carpet sweeper, and the brush in this machine is operated on exactly the same basis.

The Latest Improved and the Most Complete Vacuum Sweeper

No. 1—Combination—$8.50

This sweeper has a curved metal top, made of carefully selected rustless and oil free sheet of pickled re-enameled steel with two coats of high grade mahogany color enamel applied and baked on separately, making the top impervious to scratches and finger prints. It is equipped with 9-inch wide revolving brush which has genuine bristles in spiral twist settings. This brush may be adjusted to sweep rugs having long or short nap with the least possible friction, making the brush wear longer and sweep better. (Note arrows A, B, C and D.) A is the lever that operates the brush adjustment. Lower A toward the rear wheel and the brush sweeps deeply into the carpet. Raise A up to B or C and the brush skims lightly over the surface. Raise A around to arrow D and the brush is disengaged entirely and ceases to revolve. Fitted with special auto roller bearings which make this machine run perfectly and easily. The special hinged nozzle on this model is fastened securely to the body of the cleaner by two small hinges (see arrow E). These hinges make it impossible to replace the nozzle incorrectly. The nozzle is equipped with a clamp on each side making it firm. The dust pans are the same as in carpet sweeper and both pans empty when you depress lever at rear of cleaner (see arrow F). The dust bag is made of heavily mercerized fabric which retains the finest dust. It is made in box form with substantial frame and has a two-inch wide opening. The specially weighted valves are faced with closely woven bellows cloth. The weights cause them to operate instantly insuring maximum suction. A heavily braided pad over front and sides of nozzle prevents marring furniture should machine be carelessly handled. Machine is 6 inches in height and is equipped with special sectional handle in three sections with screw joints and makes it convenient to put away in small places.

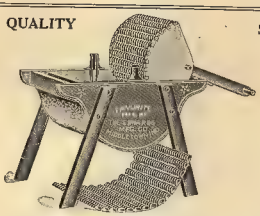
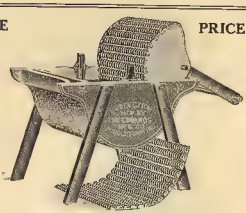
QUALITY SERVICE PRICE





FAVORITE and PERFECTION WASHING MACHINES have been on the market for the past forty years. During that time they have gained a place in the trade that cannot be filled by the higher priced power washer, because the majority of the trade demands a washer that embodies the three great essentials that are found in the FAVORITE and her big brother, the PERFECTION, namely, efficiency, durability and economy. FAVORITE and PERFECTION WASHERS are efficient because they thoroughly clean the clothes in the shortest possible time. They are durable because they will give years of service with ordinary care. They are economical because they are priced within the reach of that great mass of people that Lincoln had in mind when he said, "The Lord surely loved the common people because He made so many of them."

We have the largest factory in the United States devoted exclusively to the manufacture of open (hand power) washers, the only quality washer on the market within the reach of all classes of trade MR. DEALER, if you are not selling FAVORITE and PERFECTION WASHERS, there are three good reasons why you should.

FIRST: Your competitor is selling them.

SECOND: You are missing the profit you should be getting from these sales.

THIRD: You are not serving the majority of the trade.

We are in a position to make prompt shipment from stock. If your jobber does not handle FAVORITE and PERFECTION WASHERS, order direct from the manufacturers.

Our prices are extremely low considering size and quality. Allow us the pleasure of quoting you on our line.

SEE THOSE PROJECTIONS?

They put an end to the most common trouble with Expansion Shields—turning in the hole while the bolt is being put in.

You know how the jaws of a pipe wrench grip a piece of pipe and prevent it from turning, don't you? Well, the projections on PARKER EXPANSION SHIELDS bite into the wall in the same way, so that the Shields "can't turn in the hole" while the bolts are being inserted.

Your customers are bound to appreciate this feature because (1) it makes a stronger fastening; and, (2) it saves time and labor since it does away with plugging the holes and fussing with the Shields to make them grip.

Thomas Crown Mowers

Thomas Crown Mowers retain all valuable features proven by long years of study and service, with some new features, such as ball and roller bearings, floating cutter bar, improved foot lift and raising lever.

Frame exceptionally strong and simple, in one piece, all bearings securely in alignment. Bearings or boxes are independent of frame, easily removed and renewed at small cost, if necessary.

Ball and roller bearings placed where there is most friction and to take the heavy work. Bearing at upper end of Pitman shaft is ball bearing. These reduce draft and add to life of mower. Gear action positive and instantaneous, the knife starting at same instant as wheels and doing away with all dead center points.

Driving wheels, heavier than ever, large and wide apart, clear the swath and carry all weight well divided. Both wheels are drivers, giving ample traction.

Gearing on these mowers is of pattern used and proven by many years service, scientifically and practically correct. So arranged that pitman on outward thrust is driven nearly on straight line instead of in opposite direction, which would cause knife to bind in inner shoe.

Speed is that proven to give best results, for grass cutting under all conditions. The big feature of these mowers is the changeable speed, which is well worth the small difference in cost, as all mowers are really geared at a higher speed than necessary for ordinary cutting, but must be provided with sufficient speed to cut in difficult places. It is a simple matter to change from one speed to the other. The fast speed gives fifty-four movements of knife to every revolution of ground wheel for hard cutting. The slow speed reduced to forty-four movements of knife is sufficient for all ordinary work.

Cutter Bar is rolled steel, each guard has removable lug to take wear and it is thus possible to renew parts that wear on bar at small additional cost and save buying entire new bar. The floating cutter bar with new gag lever enables inside shoes to pass over high obstructions, the outer end remaining down; also outer end to pass over an obstruction, inner end remaining down; thereby enabling one to cut grass in rough ground.

Adjustable Push Bar is a valuable and practical improvement. When cutter bar drops back, as it will, after joints become worn, it can be brought up to perfect alignment of pitman and knife, making machine run lighter, do better work and prevents breaking of pitman and knives.

Wheel Ratchets keyed to axle on outside of wheels, making it easy to remove to take up wear against inside hub end. This is done without taking off wheel by removing set screw and driving pawl holder against wheel. Pawls in ratchets are strong and heavy, engaging instantly without lost motion. Wide tread with 4½-inch rimmed wheels, with three rows of lugs, provide more traction.

Improved Foot Lift and Raising Lever. In raising cutter bar, outer end raises faster than inner end, the long leverage given foot lever enables operator to handle long cutter bar as easily as a shorter one. Raising lever is independent and separate while using foot lever, but can be operated with foot lever, if desired.

Draft Rod attaches to push bar at inside shoe, utilizing direct draft principle, instead of drawing by pole.

Every machine is carefully built of best materials, set up and run off at factory before shipment. The warranty provides that any part of machine proving defective in material or workmanship within twelve months after starting, will be replaced free. Mower is handsomely painted throughout, well varnished and striped.

Thomas Steel Reliable Self-Dump Rake

The Teeth Don't Break

The Steel Reliable is built to meet the wide demand for a strong steel self-dumping rake that will not break teeth. It is modeled after the "Thomas Wood Reliable" that has proven so successful in the past. It is most attractive in appearance, thoroughly efficient and sure to prove a winner wherever used.

Frame and Wheels

The frame and head are made of extra heavy steel angles. The wheels are all metal of best construction, with staggered spokes and channel-out tires. They are all alike, there being no lefts and rights. Ratchet, spring and pawl in both hubs, continuous heavy axle, combined pole and shaft, enclosed center dumping cog wheel, stationary hand lever is provided, making it easy to dump by hand, if desired.

Teeth

The teeth are of high grade steel, all alike, with flat points and have a coil near the head-fastening. A slot in the fastening makes each tooth loose, free and independent and adaptable to uneven, rocky and rough ground. When dumped the teeth do not fall back hard as on other rakes, and consequently the usual jarring and straining is avoided.

Castings

Castings are mostly of malleable iron, heavy, strong and durable. Fitted with oscillating steel cleaner pins and comfortable spring seat.

Finish

Rakes are attractively finished, being painted a rich yellow, varnished and striped.

The opponent then plays in the opposite direction. The spinner has governor control, enabling the player to attain wonderful accuracy, thus giving intense interest and suspense to every shot.

MISS TILLIE TINKER

Miss Tilly Tinker is destined to become one of the world's favorites in public life. No lady made of wood has ever been able to perform the wonderful feats accomplished by this fascinating beauty. She dances untiringly upon her toe at the top of a slender pole. No ancient or modern dance upon the toes is too complex for her attainments. She whirls and bows, forward, sideways and backward, cuts figure eights, and leans over so far, that at times it seems as if she would surely fall, but always rights herself with perfect safety. Miss Tilly's beauty, color and motion will win her way into the hearts and homes of every family in the land, and bring delight to childhood.

This young lady makes an especially attractive window display in windows or departments of retail institutions as she does her own demonstrating. Together with eleven of her sisters all doing different things at the same time, operated by the breeze from one electric fan, she offers an attraction to the public that never fails to get attention, resulting in immediate sales.

We recommend Miss Tilly Tinker to our customers as one of the best novelties of the season. Her sales will, we believe, equal those of any 75c toy on the market.

Horsie-Toddler—One of the

Toddler Toys

CONSTRUCTION

Body and Hindquarters are one piece of thick, Arizona Pine. Head and forelegs are of one piece also. Wheels and handle of selected Wisconsin birch. Swivel bearing through shoulder allows toy to be steered in any direction. Four wheels, widely spaced, give great stability. The axles are solid steel rods. The ends of these rods projecting through the wheels are covered with nickel plated hub caps. All wheels equipped with metal bushings to prevent wear. Full shaped saddle being fitted to the body, will not cause bowlegs. Sells as big during the summer as at Christmas time. Finished in four colors as above.

FINISH

The finish has the appearance of baked enamel. The decorations in four colors are life-like and have none of that gaudy appearance so common to toys. The Horsie-Toddler is a sturdy solidly made toy—built to stand the hardest nursery knocks.

It is the ideal toy to induce outdoor play and develop the body. It is a winner with the kiddies wherever shown. The Horsie-Toddler gives the child everything that any child's vehicle does and is a horse besides.

and consequently finds that after playing with the car awhile it is a difficult matter to get the hands perfectly clean, this little formula may be of interest. After working about the car or garage, apply fresh cylinder oil or any light oil to the hands, using just as soap and water are used. When all of the grease has been cut loose, wipe the hands on clean waste or rag. This treatment will leave the hands in good shape for soap and water. Tar soap is good for the finishing touches.

If a popping noise occurs in the carburetor when the throttle is opened suddenly and the spark advanced, then a weak mixture is indicated. Give the mixture more gas. A sluggish engine which exhausts black smoke is being provided with too rich a mixture. If the motor refuses to idle evenly, the mixture is probably at fault. Turn it to the point at which it works best. The same should be done if the car picks up sluggishly or lacks proper accelerative quality at high speeds.

Different locations demand different types of gasket material, depending on whether they are subject to action of water, oil or gas. Gaskets in the water line should generally be of graphited asbestos, cut from a sheet and spread with shellac. If too much shellac is used some of it might be squeezed into the water jacket and cause trouble. For oil joints use paper and for gas joints use copper-lined asbestos. —ALBERT MARPLE

Cleaning the Closed Car

The popularity of the closed car makes it appear that something must be said about keeping it clean. Closed cars differ from open cars in the manner in which they collect and hold dust. The closed models on account of the protection and security they give from fogs, dust and storms, are, of course, more nearly air-tight. At least no rear window is open for drafts to blow through. Thus dust that comes in will get there in other ways than by blowing directly in.

The closed car is usually equipped with cloth seats. The cloth of these seats can not be wiped like leather, as such a procedure would only rub in the offensive matter. The car, when being cleaned, should be placed so that any wind that may be blowing will pass through the open doors while the cleaning is going on inside. This allows the wind to carry out the dust and also clears out any odors that may be lurking there.

With a good whisk-broom, brush the cushion covers and tap them gently with a small beater. Care must be taken not to strike too hard, else you may make a hole which will need mending. Even after the floor has been swept and the carpets removed, you can afford to give the seats and backs another light brushing. Then last of all comes the wood work and metal, which should be wiped with a rag slightly dampened with either "three-in-one" or linseed oil. All spots of grease present on the cloth covers of the seats and backs can be removed with any good spot remover. Some cloth used on seats may fade slightly if treated too roughly and copiously with liquid cleaners; so some reason and care will have to be used if the nature of the cloth demands careful handling.

The glass windows should be cleaned carefully. Nothing that is apt to scratch should ever be used on them. The transparency of the glass should be unmarred as long as the car lasts. Nothing detracts from the usefulness of the glass more than scratches on the glass surfaces, particularly if these glasses be of the plate type. Do not use wet sponges on them if these sponges have previously been used in cleaning the mud from the outside, as there may be pieces of sand hidden within which is sure to be harmful to the luster of the glass.

So far as the outside course of cleaning is concerned, the process will be very similar to any recommended plan used in cleaning the open car. The top will call for a different method of cleaning than that employed for cloth tops. On the closed cars the upper side of the top should be washed free of dust at times of general cleaning. The original dressing or varnish coat on the top is apt to crack, chip or peel off by reason of heat which is usually hastened by allowing dust to lay there undisturbed for too long. A frequent dressing of this top surface after thorough cleaning will have a good effect on the last qualities. You can do this with the help of a step-ladder.

Sometimes foul odors will make themselves known and appear to be hard to get rid of. We once had a case of this with a closed cab and soon found the interior atmosphere to be very unpleasant. We never did know just what to blame for it, but the doors were kept shut while the cab stood in the barn. For this reason the closed car should not be kept closed tight while idle. Airing before use with both doors open and the wind blowing through will help. A vessel of water placed inside will doubtless absorb some of the foulness, or a good disinfectant or deodorant will accomplish the same result. Reliable deodorizers can be found at drug stores.

An Emergency Auto Repair

BY UNCLE ED.

A CAR came in the other day with a burned-out connecting rod bearing, caused by a broken oil pump spring, the bearing being of the die cast variety. There is no agency of this car near by and the prospects of obtaining a new bearing short of the factory seemed remote. The owner wanted service, as they all do, so the force cudgelled their brains and evolved the following repair, which seems to be a very good one in such cases

In looking over the scrap heap an old flange casting was found, with a hub somewhat larger than the outside diameter of the largest part of the bearing. Around this hub was wrapped several thicknesses of heavy wrapping or "express" paper, cut wide enough to form a mold about one-fourth inch longer than the length of the bearing. The hole in the center of the casting was formed by a pin, the pin being turned a slight taper above where it fitted in the hole in the casting to facilitate its removal from the casting after cooling.

The pin when in place and with the paper wrapped around the hub of the casting forms an annular groove in which melted babbitt is poured to form the casting; the best grade of heavy duty metal is none too good for this purpose. After cooling and removing the paper and center pin, there is left a rough casting.

The casting is chucked in the lathe, faced off true on one end and bored to the diameter of the crank pin or .001" to .002" larger, the corner being rounded to fit the fillet of the crank pin. The casting is then turned end for end in the chuck, adjusted so the hole runs true, faced to proper length and the bearing end rounded.

A piece of steel slightly larger than the diameter of the bore is then chucked and turned with a very slight taper so that the casting with finished bore may be lightly forced on and the outside finished to fit the connecting rod ends. The oil grooves should be finished before the outside is turned as there is less liability of damaging the bearing by breaking off a flange after being finished to fit the connecting rod end. It should be made so a slight pressure is necessary to force it into the rod: the bearing is then cut apart at the center line, dressed off to fit the connecting rod and cap, oil holes drilled and the bearing is ready to install after being scraped to fit the pin. This may save a long delay for repairs.

The Universal Cafenoira at work fascinates every watcher, as the whole percolating process is visible through the glass. Made almost entirely of glass, it is perfectly sanitary and appeals to many for that reason. It is an economy to use one of these machines as you can use one teaspoonful of coffee to make a stronger beverage than you make of one large tablespoonful by ordinary methods. The glass is heat resisting but it is glass and therefore will not stand dropping or rough handling. All parts are interchangeable and can be replaced at a small cost in case of breakage or being mislaid.

Electric Chafing Dishes, Percolators, Percolator Sets, Toasters and Heating Pads

These electric utensils have been thoroughly tested as to the reliability and durability of the heating element. All parts are most rigidly tested in all their stages of development, and the finished unit is tested under full load for several hours. This eliminates the possibility of the pieces giving out in service. The advantages of articles of this manufacture are as follows: Long life and low operating expense. In most cases three heat regulations; no possibility of short circuits and patented connectors. Almost all cities and towns use 110 volts; exceptions are few.

Cletrac The Embodiment of Compact Power—

TANK-TYPE TRACTOR

(Formerly known as the "Cleveland" Tractor)

More kinds of work
More days in the year

THE Cletrac Tank-Type Tractor is only 96 inches long, 52 inches high and 50 inches wide.

But in spite of its small size it will do the work of six horses or mules—and has a speed of from forty to fifty per cent greater than the average tractor.

It is the embodiment of compact power. It produces food but consumes none of it. It never gets tired. Unaffected by heat. It works all day—and all night too if necessary.

It does better, quicker, cheaper work—and does it twelve months in the year.

Plowing is only the beginning of its work. It harrows, plants and reaps, binds, threshes and hauls, grades, saws, and fills silos, spreads manure, digs potatoes and does practically all the other jobs formerly done by animal and stationary power.

Because of its distinctive tracklaying construction the Cletrac is specially adapted to seed bed work. Eight hundred square inches of traction surface enable it to go over soft plowed ground or moist or sandy surfaces without sinking in and without packing down the soil—two invaluable assets not found in the ordinary tractor—two assets essential in the proper preparation of the seed bed.

The tank-type construction of the Cletrac gives it a tremendous advantage in doing side hill work, or in climbing steep grades.

Its small size and short turning radius enable it to go under and among small trees and are largely responsible for its pronounced preference among orchard owners. A million farmers and orchardists can profitably use the Cletrac twelve months in the year.

The Cletrac operates on a surprisingly small amount of gasoline, distillate or kerosene, but is specially designed to use kerosene or distillate. It takes less space in your barn than a horse. It eats only when it works.

Our sales and service organizations go hand in hand. Wherever you can get the Cletrac you can get genuine Cletrac service backed up by the strength and reputation of The Cleveland Tractor Company.

Early ordering is essential, as we cannot promise prompt delivery very far ahead. See your Cletrac dealer now, or write us for information. We have a very interesting booklet "Selecting Your Tractor" that will give you much valuable information on tractor farming. Write for your copy today.

Time and money saving, plus labor elimination advantages, make sales easy. Personal comfort, family pleasure, and modernized farm life factors force quick purchasing decisions.

And the men who get in now are going to be the big men and reap the profit cream from the sale of Farm Lighting plants, just the same as those who visualized aright the vast potential automobile market in its early days.

Grab the Farm Lighting sales opportunity. Do it now. Don't wait until the best known lighting and power unit sales franchises have been closed by someone else in your territory.

The Universal is a leader backed by a twenty year production and operating pedigree. It's a standard lighting plant that always makes good and builds up its own demand.

Its immense popularity is due to its universal satisfactory service; its simplicity of mechanical construction and moderate cost.

And a Universal is easier to operate and care for than the electric system on any automobile; its dependability is completely proven by the most rigid of all tests -the test of more than twenty years time.

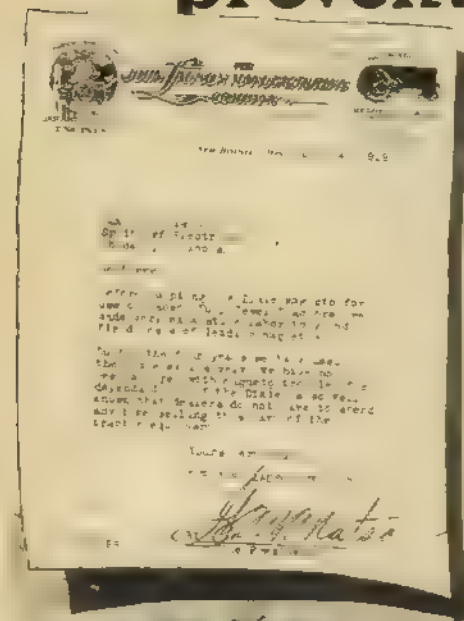
The Dixie Magneto prevents ignition trouble for The LAUSON



The splendid reputation of the Lauson Tractor is the result of the thorough understanding of tractor requirements that comes from more than 23 years' experience in the manufacturing of farm engines.

This wide experience proved to the Lauson engineers that day-in and day-out work value in a tractor depended entirely upon the reliability of the ignition system.

Therefore, when selecting the ignition equipment for the "Full Jewel" tractor, its designers adopted Splitdorf Ignition—the Dixie Magneto with Impulse Starter—after very exhaustive laboratory and field tests.

Here again, Dixie dependability has made good. Just as it has for more than a hundred more of the country's best makes of tractors. And it is noteworthy that the Dixie Magneto is standard equipment on nearly half the tractors now in operation in America.

So it will make good on your tractor. Be certain the tractor you buy is Dixie equipped.

with a truck a larger volume of goods and greater variety of produce can be carried. Furthermore, where the truck is specially built for the purpose, it is possible to display the goods to better advantage, thus increasing sales and avoiding unnecessary handling.

The various states of our Union have embarked upon the most stupendous plan of highway construction in the history of the world, and it is estimated that in the next two or three years over five hundred million dollars will be spent in the construction of public highways. This vast expenditure of money will not only result in the creation of a network of fine roads connecting up various communities, but it will open up new avenues of trade for city merchant and farmer alike. The former will be able to more easily reach his country customer, and sell him furniture, dry goods and household necessities, but the farmer will be able to easily and quickly transport to the cities his surplus stocks of fruits, vegetables and eggs, thus adding to his income and creating a profitable business in the by-products of farming. Truck gardeners will be able to locate their plants farther away from the expensive suburban lands, without being deprived of their best markets, for with good roads and motor trucks, it will be as easy to haul garden produce thirty or forty miles as it was in the old days, to haul it three or four miles with poor roads and horse-drawn vehicles.

For the first six months in 1919, the Federal Aid Bureau of the Department of Agriculture, having charge of the disbursement of Federal funds for road construction, had approved a total of 1,319 projects, involving the construction of 12,790 miles of public highway, at a total estimated cost of $133,833,300, of which $54,763,957 is Federal Aid. These projects are being added to at the rate of approximately $25,000,000 a month, so that before the end of this year it is likely that over a quarter of a billion dollars will be available for immediate road work, with an equal amount to follow next year as fast as projects can be approved. All of the road work is done under the direct control and supervision of the various State Highway Commissions, the Federal agents merely coördinating the work and seeing that the Federal money spent on road construction is used for the betterment of those highways that have value as post roads for the delivery of mail and for military purposes. Before any Federal money is available for road work in a particu-that later they may get the best results from official tabulations such as have been made of these Ohio tests.

A point requiring comment is the failure of some of the machines to develop their rated and advertised drawbar pull where the footing was good. No one can expect a tractor to show its full rated pull under unfavorable conditions, but farmers have reason to expect manufacturers will rate the pull on fair average conditions, and that the machines will perform accordingly. Another point that attracted comment was the tendency of certain operators to treat the demonstration as a race, even to the extent of lifting plows and reducing depth to gain speed when they thought they were not closely observed. Practically all machines were operated with consistent fairness, but this was just noticeable enough to be worth calling to the attention of persons responsible for the reputation of the tractor industry for sound, reliable demonstrations.

The tractors and implements were carried from place to place on a special train, and loading and unloading operations were systematized to a high degree. The Oliver people sent out a staff of some thirty men.

Special note should be made of the coöperation of lubricating oil men, who are doing practical educational work to assist farmers to appreciate the evils resulting from poor or unscientific lubrication of their power equipment.

These field demonstrations followed a series of laboratory tests, which were made at the University, and results distributed to farmers, last winter. They were made by the University, in the interest of the farmers, for whom the Agricultural Engineering department is conducted. The department deserves, and has the confidence of the farmers. The tests were made to find out, and show the farmers, to let them see with their eyes, and then get the benefit of scientific records, showing what tractor farming would do. The farmers who saw the demonstrations went away convinced that there is nothing about tractor farming that will get them into trouble; that it is practical and gets results desired, in fact, better than they can produce with horses; that it is productive; is economical; and that it helps them as nothing else can to work their ground under present-day labor conditions.

The demonstrations were conducted for the University by Prof H. C. Ramsower, manager; G. W. McCuen, in charge of tests; P. B. Potter, Virgil Overholt, J. B. Green, E. A. Silver, James Howenstein.

vaporizer. By means of a sediment bowl, all fuel is strained immediately before it passes into the carburetor. The bowl is conveniently located and can easily be removed and cleaned.

The transmission unit in the Parrett is of the sliding gear type and runs in a bath of oil. It is of simple, sturdy construction and has been proved by years of use. There is not a single bevel driving gear or universal joint used in the Parrett in the transmission of power.

The transmission is housed in a large, strong case, cast in one solid piece. This case is securely bolted to the tractor frame. The motor in turn is bolted to the transmission case by its bell housing, making a perfectly rigid unit of the motor and transmission. Attention should be directed to this construction as it makes impossible the throwing out of alignment of shaft or gears.

One of the exclusive features of the Parrett tractor is the clutch. The clutch is very simple in design but it is of sturdy construction. It is of the enclosed shift type, only three shifts being used. The clutch mechanism is lubricated by oil spray from the transmission. An unusual gear reduction gives reserve power at the drawbar to the Parrett tractor. The three speeds forward give pulling speeds of one and three-fourths, two and three-eighths, and four miles an hour. The reverse speed is one and four-fifths miles an hour. The extra low gear giving a speed of one and three-fourths miles an hour enables the Parrett to make an unusually hard pull without placing undue strain on the driving mechanism of the tractor. Three fourteen-inch moldboard plows are handled under ordinary conditions on intermediate speed, averaging approximately one acre an hour. Sufficient power is available on high speed of four miles an hour to do road work, discing, harrowing and numerous other jobs of comparatively light nature

The differential is another exclusive feature in the Parrett tractor. The differential shaft is a full floating one-piece shaft with a tensile strength of one hundred and eighty thousand pounds to the square inch. The differential gears and pinion are of steel, machine cut and case hardened. The differential with its housing is securely bolted to the hub of the large, single-faced spur gear, which is mounted in the transmission case. A constant stream of oil flows through the differential when the tractor is in motion. The right differential gear is keyed to the differential shaft. The left differential gear as well as the left bull pinion is keyed to opposite ends of a sleeve which is bronzed bushed and revolves with the differential shaft when the tractor is going straight ahead. This sleeve is machined from a solid steel bar with key cut interval. The right hand bull pinion is keyed solidly to the differential shaft. The whole differential assembly is carried on S K F self-aligning ball bearings, which take care of both thrust and lateral strain.

The bull pinion and bull gears on the Parrett tractor are enclosed. By this means dirt and sand are prevented from unduly increasing the wear on either pinions or master gears. In the illustration showing the enclosed gears it will be seen that access to the bull pinion is provided through an opening in the outer dust shield. This is an example of the construction making possible the claim by the Parrett people that accessibility to all working parts is a conspicuous feature of the Parrett tractor. An added feature of this final drive is that the bull pinion can easily be taken off and reversed on the same end of the driving shaft; thus bringing the opposite sides of the teeth into service. The rear wheels may also be removed and changed from one side to the other. This brings the opposite sides of the teeth of the bull gear into service and gives double life to each gear. Another feature both of convenience and accessibility is an eccentric bushing which is shrunk on the rear axle. This permits of the easy adjustment of bull pinions and bull gears to secure proper meshing at all times. It also enables the owner to use different size pinions to suit various operating conditions.

Small Lighting Plant Unit

To meet an ever-increasing demand and to completely cover the requirements of the farm lighting and power equipment field, the Universal Products Company, of Sandusky, Ohio, announce the addition of a new unit to the Universal line of farm lighting plants.

The new plant is smaller than any previously brought out by the Universal Products Company, and has been specially designed to cover the particular necessities of the smaller farmers, truck gardeners, florists, summer homes, etc., where a larger service is not required.

After all, the big advantage of the tractor over horses lies in its greater capacity.

Parrett "One Man—All Purpose"

One of a Series of Articles about 1919 Tractor Models.

THE designers of the first Parrett tractor, seven years ago, set for a few of their objects the construction of a machine with a permanently rigid frame, a low center of gravity, high front wheels, extreme flexibility, and the ability to turn on a small area. The design of the present Parrett tractor is in general the same as the first tractor put out. Of course refinements and improvements have been made from time to time, but the basic design is the same as was used at first.

A low center of gravity is important in that it allows the tractor to be operated on much more sideling ground than would be possible with a tractor having a high center of gravity. It is claimed for the Parrett tractor that the center of gravity is low enough so that one of the rear wheels can be lifted thirty inches off the ground without upsetting the tractor.

Flexibility of the Parrett tractor is obtained by supporting the front axle by means of a pivot, thus permitting the front axle to swing freely up and down as circumstances may require.

In speaking of the high front wheel feature of their tractor, the Parrett people point out that it requires less power to push the tractor itself when it is equipped with high front wheels, because a better leverage is obtained on any obstruction over which the wheels must be lifted, and, of course, in soft or rough ground the wheels are working against obstructions all the time.

The frame of the Parrett tractor is an individual unit of seven-inch steel channels braced crosswise and lengthwise by steel angles with a steel floor plate riveted across the rear and held in front by a steel casting supporting both sides. This gives a construction that is perfectly rigid.

The motor used in the Parrett tractor is of the vertical, four-cylinder, four-cycle type and operates on kerosene. Its normal speed is 1,000 revolutions a minute. It is so constructed that all parts needing care and adjustment are readily accessible.

All moving parts in this motor are lubricated by a force feed oiling system. A gear driven pump located in the base of the oil reservoir in the bottom of the crank case draws the oil through a fine brass screen and forces it under thirty pounds pressure through a steel distributing tube to connecting passages which carry the oil directly to each crank shaft and cam shaft bearing. From the crank shaft bearing the oil is forced through the drilled crank shaft to each connecting rod bearing and from there through an oil lead up each connecting rod to the piston pin. The timing gears are also lubricated by the pressure system, a constant level being maintained in the gear case. The overflow is returned to the reservoir. Valve stems and tappets are enclosed and lubricated by the oil vapor from the crank case. This vapor, which is caused by the oil being forced out of the bearings under pressure, also lubricates the cams, valve tappets, pistons and cylinder walls.

Bull Gears and Pinions Are Entirely Enclosed with Dust Shields

The radiator on the Parrett tractor is mounted lengthwise of the tractor. The designers claim that there is a distinct advantage in mounting the radiator in this way as the circulation of air through the radiator carries the dust and dirt away from instead of into the working parts of the tractor. The radiator is separated from the hot motor by the hood and is surrounded on all sides by the open air. The capacity of the radiator together with that of the water jacket of the motor permits of the constant circulation of a large volume of water. A twenty-inch fan mounted on anti-friction bearings is used to draw the air through the radiator.

The air which is used in the carburetor on the Parrett tractor is put through an air washer before going to the carburetor. The air washer which is illustrated in this article is designed so that the air enters through the top, passes down through the inner tube to the bottom of the washer where it is released below the water. The air bubbles come up through the water and against the baffle plates which break up the bubbles into a fine spray, thus assuring a complete cleaning of the air before it enters the carburetor.

The carburetor intake is equipped with a combined air heater and

Plowing a Continent

IN 1876 the first Case Steam Engine was evolved. From that beginning, 45 years ago, Case Engines have been lending their unfailing aid to the farmers of the world.

When that great agricultural empire, the Northwest, was opened to farm development, Case Steam Tractors helped turn the first furrows of vast acreage. They converted prairie sod and sagebrush flats into crop-yielding farm lands, and supplied the power that threshed the crops.

In 1892 the first Case Gas Tractor was built.

Threshermen everywhere are now applying their Case Steam or Gas Tractors to profitable heavy-duty farm or road work, making them income producers the year round.

Taking into account the many thousands of Case Tractors in use today, their combined plowing capacity would enable them to plow a continent.

Nevertheless, considering the Case pioneer experience and continuous development, Case Tractors have just begun.

Filling a City of Elevators

SINCE 1842 Case Threshers have been busy in the grain fields of the world. From the very first, Case Threshers have proved to be both necessary and invaluable.

Threshermen the world over, with the aid of these efficient threshers, have performed work equivalent to filling a veritable city of giant elevators with clean threshed grain.

Case Threshing Machines have long been recognized for clean threshing, thorough separation, and unequaled saving.

The Case steel construction assures rigidity and long life. It prevents rotting and total destruction by fire. It guards against distorted frames and disalignment of shafts and bearings from the weight and pull of main drive belts. The galvanizing prevents rust.

Case Threshers assure to threshermen everywhere, a successful run year after year.

These are but a few reasons why the man who makes a business of threshing will do well to investigate the merits of Case Threshing Machinery.

With a wonderful record of achievement behind it, Case Threshers have just begun.

Waterloo Boy—Three Plow Tractor

BELIEVING that the motor is the most vital part of the modern tractor, the makers of the Waterloo Boy designed their motor before they gave any thought to other details of the tractor. Having had twenty-five years' experience in making farm engines, they believed they were well fitted to build powerful engines with practical advantages which would make the basis of successful tractors, and they believe now that they have succeeded in their effort.

The engine in the Waterloo Boy tractor is of the heavy duty type and is capable of delivering 25-horse power continuously. This size of engine which delivers the power required for a three-plow tractor is quite generally regarded as the most practical size for general farm use The great demand among farmers in a section where general farming is carried on is for a tractor of this size The engine is built to burn kerosene and the makers believe that they have designed it so that it will burn the kerosene quite completely.

As the kerosene burning qualities of a motor are quite important to a prospective user, suppose we follow through the system used in handling the kerosene in the Waterloo Boy motor. The carburetor takes in the cleaned air through a stock that extends to a level above the tractor so as to avoid the dust. The carburetor then gives a proper cold mixture of the air and fuel. A butterfly valve, connected with the governor, controls the sides of opening in the passage leading from the carburetor though the manifold to the cylinders regulating the motor at all speeds. The mixture of air and kerosene passes as a mist or vapor directly from the carburetor into the manifold

Showing Close Connection of Carburetor Manifold and Cylinder Head

This manifold plays the basic part in preparing the fuel for combustion. The burning of kerosene has been a problem rather difficult to solve, largely because it is very difficult to vaporize it thoroughly and because there is a considerable tendency for it to reliquify quickly. It must be turned into a dry gas before it can be burned with any great amount of success. Even after it is turned into a dry gas this gas cannot safely pass through a chamber cooler than the cylinders where it is to be burned. If it is subjected to such conditions, an opportunity is given for recondensation of the gas back to kerosene. If this condensed kerosene passes into the cylinder it will not be burned. It will work past the piston rings very likely into the crank case, where it will mix with the oil. Kerosene mixed with the lubricating oil destroys to a considerable extent the lubricating quality and introduces the danger of burned out bearings and causes a waste of good oil.

In the manifold used on the Waterloo Boy tractor the exhaust from both cylinders goes through the manifold passage, keeping it heated in operation. Kerosene vapor goes from the carburetor into the manifold intake passage, circulates over the heated metal, becomes a mixed gas before entering the cylinder head and then passes directly through the intake valve into the cylinders. The passage of the gas from the manifold to the cylinders is short and direct with no opportunity for recondensation.

The engine is particularly designed for heavy duty work. It is a twin cylinder of the valve-in-head type, with the cylinders placed horizontally side by side, and cast in one piece This two-cylinder design makes it possible to have large valves, large water jackets, a short rugged crank shaft, wide durable bearings and plenty of power from moderate motor speed. All of these features are important where continuous operation under a heavy load is required and such conditions are the usual thing with farm tractors.

A positive spray oiling system is used in this motor. The oil is carried in a reservoir below the crank case. A pump in this reservoir forces the oil in a continuous flow up through sight feed glasses on top of the motor, then through two tubes opening into the crank case. The action of the crank breaks up the oil into a spray that keeps all of the motor parts bathed perfectly. For absolute safety's sake more oil than is needed is pumped into the crank case continuously, but none of it is wasted. The surplus returns to the reservoir and is repumped.

The Waterloo Boy is equipped with Dixie high tension magneto with impulse starter. The magneto is mounted on top of the motor, directly connected to the governor shaft. This shaft is operated by a gear that runs in the cam gear. This operates the magneto in the same direction and at the same speed as the crank shaft, so that the timing of the magneto is direct and simple.

Vibration in an engine is a serious detriment. Unless the engine is properly balanced at all practical running speeds, vibration is bound to occur. Vibration breaks up the oil film on bearings, causing the bare metal to come in contact, which results in excessive and uneven wear. Vibration causes the parts to get out of alignment, increasing repair expense and materially shortening the life of the engine. The makers of this engine believe that the two-throw crank shaft they use does away with much vibration without causing loss of power. Vibration is eliminated also by having connecting rods bearings and main bearings exceptionally wide. Securely attached counterweights are also used in order to get a perfect running balance.

The transmission on the Waterloo Boy tractor is mounted beside the

MYERS "HONOR-BILT" GLASS VALVE SEAT PUMPS

Save Time and Labor and Last Longer

Do you realize that these things mean money to you every day? Stop and think a minute. Your pump is the most used and "often abused" piece of machinery you own. You depend on it to obtain your water from the well or cistern but through habit formed by a lifetime of pumping you forget that you operate your pump every day of the year and that every stroke of the handle is labor—either your muscle or the power of a gasoline engine

"HONOR-BILT" FOR LONG SERVICE

Then why continue to use an old, lightweight, antiquated pump that is hard to operate, has small capacity and is out of order half the time? It's false economy in this day and age when MYERS EASY OPERATING PUMPS are made at the rate of nearly three a minute during working hours and sold by good dealers everywhere

Such features as the Myers Cog Gear Head which requires 33⅓% less power to pump, Patent Glass Valve Seat, Adjustable Base, Extra Heavy and Large Stand. Full Sized Cylinders and many other improvements, cannot help but give you long time, dependable water service for your home or farm Many styles—many sizes. See your dealer or write us.

motor. The clutch is located on the main shaft and is engaged direct on the flywheel band. The gears in the transmission are all steel cut, heat treated and hardened. They are enclosed in a dust-proof case. They are carried on heavy duty shafting and run on Hyatt roller bearings in a bath of oil.

The gears have automobile style shifts for two speeds forward and one in reverse. The forward speeds are three, and two and one-fourth miles an hour. The reverse is one and three-fourths miles an hour.

There is not a bevel gear in the machine, therefore end thrust on bearings is eliminated. The differential is included in the transmission, which insures the same adequate oiling for the differential that is supplied for the transmission gears.

The cooling system used on the Waterloo Boy tractor is made up of pump, fan and radiator. The water jackets around the cylinder and the cylinder head are large. The capacity of the entire cooling system is thirteen gallons.

The final drive is accomplished by operating a chilled semi-steel pinion in an internal gear mounted on the wheel. The large internal drive gear is fastened securely, direct to the rim of the wheel. The main drive pinion engages this gear with bearing on two cogs. This puts the leverage next to the rim where there will be the least strain on the gear. These gears have a face of approximately three inches.

A shield is put over the lower part of the gear to keep grit and dirt from dropping into it or being thrown into it. As the wheel turns over, any dirt that may have been gathered by the gear drops out before coming to the drive pinion.

The makers of the Waterloo Boy believe from their investigation that a partially exposed final drive gear made of suitable size and with friction on it, reduced to a minimum, is the most successful. Continued good working qualities of the final drive are further protected by provision for a simple rear axle adjustment for maintaining the proper mesh of drive pinion and gear. This adjustment is very simple and easy to make and every owner of one of the tractors has it thoroughly explained to him

In plowing, the right-hand drive wheel of the Waterloo Boy tractor runs in the furrow. The width of the tractor is seventy-two inches, which makes it possible to get a plow hitch without any side draft. It is possible to arrange the tractor and plow so that the center of power corresponds exactly with the center of draft of the plow.

Sloth makes all things difficult, but industry all easy.

THE TRACTOR THAT WORKS THE YEAR

MEASURE the value of your tractor by its usefulness. It should be practical for more than merely plowing. Your tractor should be just as adaptable for discing, harrowing, harvesting, potato digging, seeding, hauling, haying, road scraping or grading, threshing, hulling, baling, silo filling, feed grinding, rock crushing, drilling, sawing or pumping. Those operations can all be done successful y, quickly and economically wi h the Case 10-18 kerosene tractor pictured above. This means that its hours of use per day and its days of use per year reach the maximum. It increases the earning capacity. The Case 10-18 works the year 'round.

The Case 10-18 is small and compact. It develops considerably more than rated which means reserve power for hard pulls and on steep grades. It develops full power on kerosene and burns it economical'y.

The Case 10-18 has a specially designed four cylinder valve-in-head motor mounted crosswise on a one piece frame. This insures unusual rigidity, prevents disalignment of gears. It permits the use of all Spur Gears. All gears are cut steel fully enclosed.

The belt pulley is mounted on the crankshaft, which makes it convenient to line up to all belt driven machinery.

An improved Case patented air washer is another feature of the Case 10-18. This delivers clean air to the carburetor. No grit nor dust can get into the cylinders to minimize its efficiency or shorten its life.

The Case Sylphon Thermostat controls the cooling system and insures complete combustion of kerosene.

All that is latest and practical is embodied in the Case 10-18. Choose it for its all 'round adaptability. Choose it because of its economy and sturdiness. Choose it because it is built by a concern backed by long experience, capable tractor engineers, and a reputation for building the best. The J. I. # 28,000,000 Pounds 100,000 Miles 3 Years!

THREE years ago Fred Weaver, who lives at Creston, Iowa, bought a Model "F" 1-ton International Motor Truck. Mr. Weaver, like other men who have a large volume of heavy hauling—in fact, "hauling" is his particular business—was in some doubt as to advisability of buying a motor truck. But—read what he says today:

"I have hauled about 4,680 tons (9,360,000 pounds) per year and have averaged about 100 miles per day. I have done all kinds of heavy hauling, both short and long hauls, over the worst kind of country roads. After using my truck at this heavy work for three years, I am satisfied that the International is the best truck that I have ever seen when it comes to doing hard work year after year. I have had good service from the truck and the Harvester Company and am well pleased."

Mr. Weaver states further that he has covered between 90,000 and 100,000 miles with his truck during the three years he has had it and has hauled approximately 28,000,000 pounds. How many years would it take you to haul 14,000 tons of farm produce and travel 100,000 miles—almost four times around the globe—with your team and wagon?

Whether you have a short or long haul, an International Motor Truck will save you much valuable time. Write for descriptive literature.

The power plant of the "Caterpillar" is equal to the heaviest job of belt work. Through the long day's drag on a thresher belt it turns over steadily, requiring little or no attention. Cutting the heaviest silage, or filling the highest silo, it operates without choking or stalling, no matter how uneven the feeding.

Uniform heavy crops and early stands follow the "Caterpillar" 5-Ton Ordnance model (25-40 H. P.). Where plows are drawn by a "Caterpillar" the work is finished early, the seed bed is deep, and the depth is equal over the entire field.

Disc and drill with a "Caterpillar". Its light tread pressure (about 4 pounds per square inch) does not pack the plowed ground.

It goes over the ground as a man on snowshoes goes over a drift. Seed dropped in its track marks, sprouts as quickly and grows as strongly as seed dropped between the tracks. Owing to its speed and the steadiness of "Caterpillar" performance a large area may be seeded in a short time.

Plow as deep as you like—
faster than you ever plowed before

Plowing at full speed, full depth, through a full day, means a full crop.

Set the points down seven inches in hard ground; put the gears in direct drive, and start away. With four plows you can do three miles per hour day after day. No stops to adjust your tractor. No need to nurse your engine. Continuous speed throughout the plowing season, every furrow to full depth, is what the "Caterpillar" gives you.

In mellow ground you can go down eight or ten inches and step out to three miles per hour without overworking your engine or straining your tractor. The "Caterpillar" is doing this in the course of its regular work on many farms.

"Caterpillar" steadiness and dependability counts at threshing time. Run the 10-Ton Ordnance model (40-60 H. P.) up to the belt of a 60 inch separator, start it going and forget about it. Whether the straw be wet or dry, the feeding regular or uneven, "Caterpillar" power, closely governed, keeps the machine humming steadily.

There is a reserve of power and a surplus of quality in the "Caterpillar" that keeps it working as well after years of service as when it was first bought.

For doing big jobs quickly, easily and thoroughly, there is no tractor better than the "Caterpillar" 10-Ton Ordnance model. The same machine that rebuilt rained roads in France for the rapid advance of 30-Ton guns—and then brought up the guns—is now ready to do just as heavy work in America.

Run the "Caterpillar" out onto marshy ground that would not support a horse. It takes the plows or scraper, straight through tangled reeds and roots. Over ground only moderately good, the "Caterpillar" moves its load without hitch or halt. The ground pressure of the 10-Ton model is less than seven pounds per square inch, and its drawbar pull at plowing speed is more than 9000 pounds. These things make the "Caterpillar" a most valuable tractor.

Dealers: Whose policy it is to handle only the best, who do most of their business with men who use only the best, should know all about the "Caterpillar" tractor. A letter written in a few minutes returns information leading to years of satisfaction to yourself and your customers.

previously claimed, and less any insurance and indemnity recovered, may be claimed. In determining the cost of stock for the purpose of ascertaining the deductible loss there shall be taken into account only the purchase price and not any cost of feed, pasturage or care which has been deducted by the farmer as a cost of farm operation.

General deductions such as for taxes, interest on personal indebtedness, losses sustained in transactions entered into for profit aside from the farmer's regular business, losses sustained by fire, storm or other casualty, bad debts and contributions are explained in instructions on the forms for filing returns.

The term "farm," as defined by Treasury regulations, includes stock farm, dairy farms, poultry, fruit and truck farms, also ranches, plantations and "all land used for farming operations." It should be noted that a business man who operates a farm for recreation or pleasure and not for profit may not, if the farm expenses exceed the receipts, deduct such loss in his individual return of income. In such an instance the cost of farm operation is regarded as a "personal" expense, and therefore is not deductible.

Building "Dirt Boulevards" With Avery Road Tractors

A few years ago W. T. Campbell & Son of Council Bluffs, Iowa, purchased an Avery Road Tractor. It did such satisfactory work that they purchased another and another until today they have six of these great power units at work in Iowa, building "Dirt Boulevards," the finest dirt roads in America.

Avery Road Tractors are doing the same fine work in building good roads on all sides of the globe. Ten years of actual service has made them the world's champion road building tractors. On account of their greater simplicity and durability, they stand up under hard road building work better than any other power, giving service at the lowest possible cost.

Avery Road Tractors are guaranteed to build your roads 50 per cent cheaper than the same work can be done with horses or mules, and also do it better. This means cutting your road building costs in two, or building two miles of better roads for your present cost of one.

Road building is about the hardest test to which a tractor is put. Avery superiority in this field may be partly attributed to its sturdy "Draft-Horse" motor and "Direct-Drive" transmission—two features especially made for heavy-duty work. Other exclusive features are Renewable Inner Cylinder Walls, Adjustable Crankshaft Bearings, practically Unbreakable Crankshafts, Centrifugal Gasifiers, Valves-in-Head, etc.

There are seven sizes of Avery Tractors—each having these exclusive and protected features. Write for Special Road Tractor Catalog or the 1921 Avery General Catalog showing the complete line of Avery Tractors, Avery Tractor-Driven Machinery and Avery Tractor-Drawn Machinery.

the valve on an Advance engine, but I dug it up out of this magazine. I always study everything pertaining to gas engines in the Tractor and Gas Engine Review, and believe I have profited by it.

Both your papers are very instructive, even the advertising column. Since I have been running a Case engine for so many years, it is natural that I take more interest in their ads than in those of any other manufacturer. I like the way the Case ad shows the construction of their separator.

This is a picture of myself on my father's Fordson tractor. On a two-hundred acre farm this tractor has been running since June 20, 1919, with a cost of only ninety cents for repairs. We also use it for shredding corn, grinding feed and baling hay.

We also have an automobile, a 6-horse power, and a one-half horse power gasoline engine.

A Little Man on a Big Job. Francis Carroll of Morrow, Ohio.

I am twelve years old. We have taken the Tractor and Gas Engine Review ever since the first issue was published, and enjoy it immensely. We think it is the best power paper published and father and I wouldn't be without it.

I fully value your ability to handle the task you editors are undertaking, because I know it is a very hard one. The gasoline engine machines are very young, and consequently growing and expanding by leaps and bounds. Please feel that I am asking, rather than giving advice.

Your magazine is very helpful, but your queries and answers are not collected or compact; that is, they are scattered over too much territory. Why not use a sufficient number of pages in a group to cover this department, rather than have us go through half the magazine before finding our helpful wants? Why not take one make of tractor a month and analyze it,—giving us farmers the real hunch and not the pictures? Many of us are greedy for something that can save us loss of sleep and

Completely Prepares Seed Bed

Practically any tractor will plow. But Model "D" Bates Steel Mule completely prepares the seed bed from plowing to planting—plows, discs, harrows, rolls, plants. For it does not and cannot pack the softest soil. Its weight—3.5 pounds per square inch of track surface—is no greater than the weight under the shoes of a small boy.

Crop Yield Increased

Visit the farm of any owner of Model "D" Bates Steel Mule and ask him to run it over the freshly plowed ground. Scoop up the ground immediately behind the crawlers. Note that it is exactly as loose as the rest of the field—that there is no soil packing. Next visit some farm on which other type tractors are used. Note how much smaller the crop planted in the wheel tracks than that planted between the wheel tracks. Note how soil packing of heavy tractor wheels has held back the growth—forced moisture from the soil—packed the ground so solidly that life-giving air scarcely reaches the seeds. Compare this with the full, even yield all over the farm using Bates Steel Mule. Think of the value of this increased yield with the present food prices.

Horse Upkeep Reduced

Because Bates Steel Mule completely prepares seed beds in all weather conditions and works even through mud holes it is unnecessary for owners to retain as large a number of horses on their farms as it is when other types of tractors are used. Ask any owner. Bates owners get immediate profit from the sale of more horses than is possible with other tractors and a continuous saving in feeding and upkeep.

A Dependable Tractor

Model "D" Bates Steel Mule, for its weight, delivers more pull and greater speed under more different conditions than any other three plow tractor built. Because of its big oversize working parts it will outlast three ordinary tractors. It is built better and of more expensive materials than the average tractor can afford. The slight addition in power of Bates Steel Mule over the average three plow tractors gives it just that dependability and capacity for work that all farmers need.

Expert engineers, such as John Dodge, of Dodge Brothers, automobile manufacturers, use Bates Steel Mule for their farm work.

THE C. L. Best Tractor Co., of San Leandro, California, have been manufacturing tractors for many years and their present models are the outcome of this actual experience—changing and redesigning—until today this line of dependable tractors are acknowledged the leaders.

This evolution in Best Tractors has developed under severe conditions. The Pacific Coast and particularly California present to tractor manufacturers such varied uses and conditions that to surmount all obstacles in that market means that the manufacturers' product will work successfully anywhere—this has been a large market for Best Tractors since their inception and they have made good year after year.

Best dealers have always been prosperous—this has been due to the reputation and performance of the line, the quality of material used and expert workmanship, the small overhead service cost and the fact that Best Tracklayer Tractors stay sold—once a Best owner, always a Best booster.

KEROSENE TRACTORS

PLOWING WITH A CASE TRACTOR.

Tractor plowing means better, deeper plowing. It means timely plowing. Your Case 10-18 kerosene tractor will work continuously

For the Case is untiring It will operate a 14-inch Grand Detour 2-bottom gang and plow from 6 to 9 acres in ten hours.

Abundant reserve power has been provided to take care of uphill work. Though rated at 10-18 horsepower, this sturdy tractor can continuously deliver considerably more horsepower without overheating or undue strain

In every way, we believe, you will find the Case 10-18 Kerosene Tractor far superior to any tractor of like size. Its four-cylinder valve-in-head Case motor is mounted crosswise on a one-piece main frame This construction multiplies strength and affords the use of all spur gears, permits the complete enclosure of all working parts and assures permanent alignment of all gears, shafts and bearings.

All gears are cut steel—enclosed and running in oil.

The Case Sylphon Thermostat maintains an even motor temperature under all loads. This makes for complete combustion of kerosene and largely prevents raw fuel from passing by the pistons and diluting the oil in the crank case

A Case patented Air-Washer provides clean air for the carburetor and prevents dust and grit from entering the cylinders—an essential feature in the dusty, grimy work of the field

These are but a few of the numerous Case advantages. We have dealers everywhere. Any one of them will gladly give you full information. We will mail you direct a catalog of Case Power Farming Machinery on request.

"SOON" WILL NOT BE TOO SOON

TRACTOR belt work—sawing wood, grinding feed, shelling corn and cutting dry stalks—will soon give way to drawbar tasks—plowing, discing and seeding. The farm horses will be soft from months of easy stable life—but the spring work must be handled on time, regardless, for Nature waits for neither man nor horse.

Case Kerosene Tractors with their rugged strength, untiring efficiency, understandable simplicity, and economical operation will be ready everywhere to render unstinted service. By using these dependable farm power units neither acreage nor proper seedbed preparation need be sacrificed due to inadequate horse and man power.

The powerful, four-cylinder valve-in-head Case motor mounted crosswise on a rigid, twist-proof main frame affords the use of all spur gears—the simplest type of transmission. This construction insures permanent alignment of gears, shafts and bearings. It permits mounting the belt pulley on the crank shaft, the proper place for it. Case users appreciate the cut steel gears and other working parts running in oil—in dust proof housings. The distribution of weight, method of drive, and location of hitch are such that Case tractors will always deliver full rated Horse Power at the draw-bar without "rearing up" in front. These are some of the features that are responsible for Case Tractor reputation for satisfactory service.

Ask us for name and location of the nearest Case dealer, who will tell you about the right power for your spring work—and soon will not be too soon. We have a descriptive catalog we would like to send you. Write for it.

Tractor Depreciation Figures

will mean in the calculation given above an overhead charge of about one dollar and fifty-three cents a day instead of one dollar and twenty-seven cents.

In the matter of repairs it is best to establish a sort of estimated average and try it out awhile. Some figure this as fifty cents a day for a starting base, which seems to be a fairly good start, though much depends upon the size and character of the machine as well as upon the character of the work being done. Only time and experience will furnish us real light on this point. The one thing we all know is that repairs must be made now and then. There may be many day's runs in which no repairs are called for, but some day there will come a bill for repairs and it is not fair as a rule to charge it all up to that one day's work. It may come at times in the form of an accident, and suddenly, but as a rule we may figure that wear is gradual and the repair costs should be distributed in the expense of each day's work. At the end of a year, if you have kept a record of the repair costs of the year you will have something to work from, but in working out your averages for the coming year you should figure that the repair cost is likely to increase sharply as the machine gets older and the parts more worn.

There does not seem to be any way to get away from a certain, or rather an uncertain, amount of guess work in the matter of daily charges for repairs, but that is all the more reason why you should keep at the matter and try to provide for the probable upkeep cost with an average daily charge for that purpose.

All along the line, including depreciation figures, interest and repair charges, it is much better to err on the safe side, for there is a whole lot more satisfaction in figuring up at the end of the year to find that you are ahead of the game than it is to find that you are in the hole for a considerable sum in the matter of your fixed charges.

Then, as you go along, take those depreciation charges and make a sort of fund of them for the purchase of a new machine when the time comes. That is what depreciation charges are for—that you may have your money back when the machine has served you for a given length of time and be prepared to buy a new one, or make some other needed investment of it if you have reached the point where you no longer require one.

Keep your eye on the man who is always trying to hand you a lemon.

How to Read the Chart

THE correct grades of Gargoyle Mobiloils for tractor engine lubrication are specified in the Chart below

A means Gargoyle Mobiloil "A"
B means Gargoyle Mobiloil "B"
BB means Gargoyle Mobiloil "BB"
Arc means Gargoyle Mobiloil Arctic

These recommendations cover all models of tractors unless otherwise specified.

Where different grades of Gargoyle Mobiloils are recommended for summer and winter use the winter recommendations should be followed during the colder period when freezing temperatures may be experienced.

The Chart is compiled by the Vacuum Oil Company's Board of Automotive Engineers and constitutes a scientific guide to Correct Tractor Lubrication.

If your tractor is not listed in the part of the chart containing the Chart of Recommendations at your dealer's or send for booklet "Correct Lubrication for Tractors," which lists the Correct Grades for all Tractors.

Farming Costs and Farm Profits

Some figures which may lead you to greater business

RESULTS of an investigation made by the Department of Agriculture show that in the last seven years the average return on farm investment increased from 4% to 7%. The Department found, however, that in spite of the comparatively higher prices paid for farm products in the last few years, few farmers made more than $500 cash a year, over and above the things the farm furnished toward the family living.

The tractor dealer who is fully alive to his sales possibilities will see a close connection between these figures and economical operation of farm machinery

He knows that over 50% of all engine repairs on automobiles, trucks and tractors are due to incorrect lubrication.

He knows that in hundreds of tests Gargoyle Mobiloils, when used as specified in our Chart of Recommendations, have shown savings in oil ranging from 50% to 70% and fuel economies of 17% to 25%.

He will sell Gargoyle Mobiloils not only because they bring in considerable profit in the course of the year, but because scientific lubrication of tractors enables farmers to get utmost efficiency. Each satisfied tractor user is a living advertisement urging other farmers to buy modern machinery had had but a few week's experience in a tractor school and that he had not qualified there. However, he got his line on the boy a little too late to save his engine. It is sure a shame for some of the men who are travelling about to get hold of a good tractor. Some of them would wreck a wheelbarrow, and the best of them will have some unavoidable trouble.

Our Chart of Recommendations gives you unquestioned authority for decisions in lubrication problems. This Chart has proven a business-bringing confidence builder to dealers the country over.

Advice.—When an owner hires an operator he should make sure that he is getting a real engine man. Also he ought to be willing to pay a real engine man's wages.

CASE 1052.—A MUD PIE

Condition.—A couple of "nuts" tried to move a tractor over some fall plowing.

Discussion.—This occurred in the Red River Valley on the Minnesota side. It had been raining more or less and that rich gumbo soil was sure soft and slippery. The boys started to pull a gang of machines across a piece of plowed ground. For a few rods they had no trouble and then they had a whole field of it. The tractor cut down as deep as the plows had run and there the drivers got on a slippery surface. Those who have ever been on a tractor in the Red River Valley know that the mud is greasy and nasty. Those who have never been there can take my word that it is about as bad as soft soap on a hard-wood board. After some effort the machines were unfastened. Then a row of fence posts was gathered and ground up under the drivers. Finally, the tractor was landed on sod and the boys cleaned off some mud. Oh, sure, it was a gay time they had!

Advice.—If you ever have to move a tractor over a field of wet, black gumbo, freshly plowed, don't try it.

CASE 1053.—A POOR OPERATOR.

Condition.—An owner wrote for an expert to look over his tractor.

Discussion.—This owner stated that the oiling device on his tractor was not in good order. The crank shaft bearings were oiled by a combination oil and splash system. When the expert arrived he found that the bottom of the crank case was full of dirt. The operator had never changed the oil in the case. Dirt had filled in until the connecting rod ends were travelling in grooves in the dirt and carbon. Naturally there could be but little oil in the bottom of that case. The expert cleaned it out thoroughly and put in new oil. He also took up a lot of slack in all the crank bearings. This done, the motor ran sweetly again.

Advice.—If you are an expert and visit such a case as this, be sure that you get enough to pay you or the company well for your time. If you

As Reliable as Horses and Much Faster!

YOU can depend upon your Huber Light Four to serve you as steadily and dependably as your horses ever have. It is ready to work, every day, all day, unaffected by heat, flies, or fatigue

The Huber Light Four pulls three plows and turns an acre an hour. It gets the plowing done on the few choice days when the ground is just right and assures a bigger yield. It works the ground more thoroughly. It saves time at harvest and does all belt work, even running a light thresher.

The Huber Clutch

Among the features that contribute to the exceptional dependability of the Huber is the counter balanced Friction clutch. The friction arm is screwed on the end of the transmission shaft assuring perpetual rigidity. Pull the lever and the friction collar moves toward the motor expanding the friction shoes against the inside of the flywheel. There is no end thrust on the motor or transmission. The large friction area assures a tight grip and makes smooth engagement possible. This is only one of many Huber points of superiority.

The makers of the Huber Light Four are pioneer tractor builders with 20 years' tractor experience behind them. Every year they have won fast friends by making a reliable and dependable tractor. Huber tractors are firmly established. They are here to stay. And the makers will always be ready to give you the support you have a right to expect from the manufacturer.

LA CROSSE
Tractor Implements

The right plow for the light tractor
THE LA CROSSE No. 12 is "built to fit" the requirements of the popular light tractors. It is the right plow for the light tractor because—it has a rear wheel which lightens the draft; it is adjustable, the beam spacing can be easily changed so that a 10", 12", and 14" cut can be made with a 14" bottom; it has a flexible hitch which allows the plow to ride steadily at an even depth.
The power-lifting device on the La Crosse No. 12 both raises and lowers the plow. The bottoms enter the ground point first and are forced in by power; they also leave the ground first when the plow is raised. The plow has a 10" clearance when it is elevated.
Levers on each wheel, within easy reach of the operator make the depth adjustment simple and convenient. The exclusive La Crosse hand lift enables the operator to raise his plow when the tractor is not in motion.
Every dealer will recognize the possibilities of this plow, built with all the La Crosse characteristics of extreme strength and lightness of draft. You are invited to write for dealer terms and territory arrangements, at once.

The LAUSON 15-25

There is only one way to protect gears, engine and moving parts from dust, grit, mud and dirt. That is to keep them under cover. If the dust and dirt get a chance at the parts they soon wear out. Sand grit and dust work like emery and slowly grind the metal down.

LAUSON construction keeps the dirt, even the finest dust, away from the working parts.

Study the dust-proof housing that covers all the gears, the hood that covers the engine, clutch and transmission. You can operate your LAUSON anywhere and not worry. The gears running in a bath of oil will stay good, the engine is protected against dirt, valves being enclosed in dust-proof housing.

trying condition with the rolling contours, many of the plows took consistently a depth of nine inches, with an average for the two days work of eight and one-half inches.

Each tractor was operated with plow, tandem disk, and culti-packer. Particular interest was shown in the tillage demonstrations. Prof. H. C. Ramsower, manager of the demonstrations, says that while a farmer can hitch three good horses to a sixteen-inch sulky plow and do a first-class job of plowing, it seems virtually impossible to hitch horses to tillage tools and fit the land as effectively as was done with the tractors. Each machine, pulling a tandem disk, with the gangs well angled, and followed by a culti-packer, performed most satisfactorily. The culti-packer produced a most favorable impression by its effectiveness in packing soil and crushing clods so that even though heavy rains may fall soon after the operation, danger of baking and crusting is reduced to a negligible risk. It is suggested that in case the ground is left rather uneven after plowing, it may be a good thing to hitch a drag harrow in between the disk and the culti-packer, to help level the surface.

As to the much-talked of risk of packing the soil with heavy tractors, the machines in this demonstration ran from twenty-seven hundred to seventy-eight hundred pounds. Prof. Ramsower concludes from observation in the fields that danger of packing has been over emphasized.

Drawbar tests were conducted with the Gulley dynamometer. In this equipment the measuring unit is connected between tractor and the implement drawn. This measuring unit is connected to an ingenious recording device which records the pull at every moment of the test, and also measures the distance travelled and time elapsed during the test.

Normal pull tests were made at a plowing depth of about eight inches, and measuring the pull of the machine while travelling at as nearly its rated plowing speed as could be determined. Then a maximum pull test was obtained by setting the plows so deep as to give the tractor a maximum load without materially decreasing its speed. None of the tractors was run in low gear. These tests for correct interpretation of the tables, of course, require allowances for varying conditions of soil and topography, as well as extreme difference in field surfaces, even in closely adjacent areas. This constitutes a very strong argument in favor of farmers personally attending demonstrations, and observing and making note of conditions, so

Hand Pumps No Mystery

BY HOLLISTER SAGE

THE pump is an imperative adjunct to the successful application of power where pneumatic tires are employed, and still very few owners of automobiles know the construction of an air pump and how to restore its efficiency when it is lost.

After trying in vain to inflate his tires, an owner concludes angrily that his pump is worn out; but he is mistaken nine times out of ten. I bought pump after pump and laid them aside one after another, believing them worthless. I find the trouble with pumps universal and a general ignorance of what to do for them. "It needs washers," or "The pump is worn out. Buy a new one," or, "It is clogged and cannot be cleaned," garage men will tell you. In despair the other day I stopped at a garage, but the man in charge declared that, "Its lower valve is useless." These pumps have no "lower valve." I went home with the pump, determined to take a day off if necessary, and find out why all my pumps would not inflate a tire.

As I put on my overalls to begin, I noticed a near neighbor washing a big limousine and went over to learn of him. "How much do we know about air pumps?" I inquired. "We don't know anything," he retorted. "I own a lot of them and every one is on a strike." Going right back I began dismantling one and noting carefully its construction. After fussing and experimenting for half a day, I learned that most of my trouble is entirely in the packing around the piston rod at the top of the cylinder from which the air goes to the tire. The air leaves the pump at that point instead of going into the tire, and it is entirely due to poor insulation or packing of the gland at the top. In most pumps the washers even do not need renewing; simply put in a new and tight washer there. The use of two thin leather washers at this point with cotton wick packing wound about the piston rod between them will surprise you with immediate results. Notice the cut at B. Fill the cotton with oil. Should the pump have been taken apart and the owner not be certain about the way its washers should be arranged, let him look for a moment at the accompanying diagram. It will be seen that the first cylinder which compresses air must have its washer turned down. (See A.) Put it into the cylinder with care so it will have no crimped place in its edge. Use the point of a dull knife in placing it,

MOLINE ## UNIVERSAL TRACTOR

POWER

Why buy a tractor that hasn't its rated horse power—that carries a plow bottom or two more than it can pull, except under the most favorable plowing conditions? Will you be satisfied with that kind of a tractor?

Save yourself from dissatisfaction by buying a Moline-Universal Tractor, the tractor that has developed its rated horse-power and abundant reserve power in every test.

Its latest demonstration of this power was made at the Official Ohio Tractor Demonstration Tests. At Columbus, Ohio, on July 28th and 29th, the Moline-Universal Tractor developed the highest drawbar horse-power under both normal and maximum loads. Its nearest competitor was an 18-36 H. P. machine — just twice the size of the Moline-Universal.

Rated at 9-18 H. P., the Moline-Universal Tractor developed 18.72 drawbar horse-power on normal test and 16.67 horse-power on maximum test; 104% reserve power on normal and 92.6% reserve power on maximum. Think of it—double its rated power. More power than any of the 2, 3 and 4 plow tractors tested with it And during this test 7 of the 11 tractors entered failed to develop even their rated horse-power.

Better buy the Moline-Universal — the tractor of no regrets. It's the most wonderful power-plant on wheels; 1 H. P. to every 180 pounds of weight by this test.

And its reserve power prolongs its life.

It has thousands of satisfied, boosting owners all over the country.

TRACTION

Power on a tractor is of little relative value unless it is applied to afford maximum traction. Traction is what counts. It is the primary reason for a tractor and TRACTION is the outstanding feature of the MONARCH TRACTOR. It has power - plenty of it—mechanical perfection, strength, ruggedness and, most esential of all, it has maximum traction delivered by means of the patented MONARCH Tracks.

The Crawling Grip That Never Slips

These tracks enable the MONARCH TRACTOR to get over the ground with a greater grip than a dozen drive wheels They have an irresistible creep that laughs at hills, grades and loads. In addition, the weight is so distributed that -inch for inch -it is no greater than the weight of an average man's foot. This means the MONARCH TRACTOR will not pack the soil.

Where the Grades Are Heavy and the Going Is Hard

You can use the MONARCH TRACTOR everywhere. The MONARCH will not pack the soil and will go over ground where a horse could not work. The secret of MONARCH power and success is in the TRACTION principle.

MONARCH Tractors are now made in the following sizes:

16-9 H. P.

The right size tractor for the average farm. Small enough to be handy for such work as orchard cultivation, powerful enough to pull from two to three bottoms.

30-18 H. P.

A big brute of a tractor—able to tackle heavy farm work and road work. 18 H P at the drawbar—30 H. P. on the belt pulley.

Before you buy a tractor, this traction question is what should influence your purchase.

Do not confuse MONARCH TRACTORS with the so-called "track laying" types. The track on the MONARCH is made of wear resisting manganese steel

We guarantee to duplicate for MONARCH TRACTORS any written warranty put out by any other responsible tractor manufacturer.

The following formulæ are those which it would seem are best adapted to the rating of internal-combustion engines and tractors:

Rated engine horse power $= \frac{D^2 \times 0.7854 \times L \times N}{33\,000}$ [1]

Drawbar pull, lb $= \frac{375 \times \text{rated drawbar horse power}}{\text{rev. per min.}}$ [3]

Motor torque, lb-ft $= \frac{63\,025 \times \text{rated horse power}}{N}$ [4]

Practical work in experimental testing laboratories and on regular test floors has proved that four-stroke-cycle engines operating on kerosene will develop for periods of two hours or more 1 brake horse power per 11,000 cubic inches piston displacement a minute and a few engines have for short periods of time developed 1-horse power for every 9,800 cubic inch piston displacement a minute. Therefore, making allowances for general wear, mishandling and improper adjustment, the formulæ just given will be seen to be conservative and adapted for rating this type of engine is that the motive for continuing it does not depend upon war. Once having learned that by just taking simple steps like filling up cracks in wagons, putting canvas sheets under machines, picking up and raking behind the wagons, tightening belts, and repairing sieves, they can save wheat by the million bushels, it should be easy for our wheat growers to remember this lesson, even when wheat goes back below a dollar a bushel. As one county officer wrote, he considered the teaching done by this threshermen's thrift school more important than the saving. And all of the wheat saved by this teaching cost Uncle Sam or his Grain Corporation only $7,000.

Mobilize threshermen to save wheat was the slogan of this educational campaign. It began several months before harvest. One thousand county committees were organized in thirty-two wheat states, county headquarters were opened and kept accessible at all times to farmers and threshermen. Owners of threshing machines were located and their help used in discovering what machines needed repairs and where threshing outfits, expert help, coal or machine parts were lacking. County institutes or state meetings were held. Twelve hundred threshermen gathered for an institute at Aberdeen, South Dakota, and eight thousand five hundred of Iowa's ten thousand threshermen attended country schools.

It takes Brains to recognize a Good Tractor

WHEN you build a tractor to be sold on the basis of the service it gives, it has got to be sold to a man of brains.

Appearances speak for themselves.

Anybody can tell what a tractor looks like—whether it has three wheels or four, whether the engine is upright or horizontal, whether its gears are enclosed or at the mercy of sand or gravel.

But it takes brains to get at the facts—to look into tractors instead of merely at them.

More and more the farmers of this country are looking for the facts which determine the serviceability, economy and long life of a tractor.

And they are finding them in the G O type of tractor—the four-wheel, four-cylinder type, towards which the whole industry is tending. There are no tracks or sprockets in the G O Tractor to become filled with sand or to use up power in overcoming friction.

They are finding them in the G O driving mechanism—an exclusive feature which cannot be duplicated or imitated. With the G O friction drive, there is no possibility of stripping gears, because they are always in mesh. The speed of the tractor can be changed while in motion. It can be adjusted to any kind of work, either in the field or at the belt—there are six speeds forward and six reverse.

They are finding them in the G O construction—so simple that anyone can keep it running strong and true. Every part is accessible. Every gear is enclosed in dust-proof casings—runs in oil. The driving wheels are independently controlled, making it easy to turn short, plow close to corners or pull out of any hole.

The man of brains, who is looking for more facts—for facts about the company behind the G O Tractor, its resources, its guarantee, and its idea of tractor service—can get them without obligation by addressing any of the offices below.

TRACTOR economy and tractor power depend largely on the proportion of the power developed by the motor that is delivered to the draw-bar.

In simplicity and economy the direct spur gear drive of the Huber Light Four is unequalled. There are no bevel gears—simply a friction clutch and spur gear reduction to the driving wheels.

Other reasons why the Huber develops such large power in proportion to its weight are: the high wheels roll easier and afford a larger area of "traction grip"; center draft conserves power by avoiding "side pull", high-grade extra strong materials reduce weight.

These features are the result of 20 years' development. They are behind the Huber reliability that has created thousands of satisfied Huber owners.

this line and, the Avery Company having been for many years large producers of horse drawn cultivators, their first attempt to motorize one of these machines naturally ran to the idea of simply taking a horse drawn cultivator and putting a motor on it to drive it. After some months of planning, making drawings and experimental machines, the conclusion was finally reached that in order to make the motor cultivator an acceptable and profitable machine to the farmer, it ought to be able to handle two rows of corn at one time, and should sell at a very moderate price because of its limited occupation on the farm.

Our first machine was put into the field in 1914 and was so reasonably successful that a crop of corn was cultivated with it. The experience however, in the operating of that machine developed some newer ideas which were incorporated in a machine that was put out and raised a crop in 1915. Further developments took place during the following fall and winter, and in 1916 what we regarded as the first machine in a really acceptable form was produced and put on Valehurst Farm, owned by the writer, and cultivated sixty acres of corn that season, and immediately after the corn was laid by, this same machine was shipped to Hutchinson, Kansas, and exhibited at the tractor demonstration held there that year, and also at the following demonstrations of that year's circuit, which included St. Louis Missouri, Fremont, Nebraska; Cedar Rapids, Iowa; Bloomington, Illinois, Indianapolis, Indiana, and Madison, Wisconsin. That machine is still in existence and is capable of going out and doing work. However, some modifications were made during that winter and the next year a factory order for five hundred of these machines was issued and they were built and put out on the market. The experience with this machine in the field brought forth additional information concerning the requirements. This was especially true in the western sections of the Southwest where corn is planted with a lister in furrows. Cultivating rigs were developed and attachments made for meeting these requirements and in 1916 a factory order for two thousand of these motor cultivators was issued and the cultivators were made, put out, and then it commenced to develop that these motor cultivators were of very great value to the farmers for doing many other kinds of work besides actual cultivation of corn and other row crops, for instance, the pulling of harvesters, loaded and empty wagons, for hauling in crops from the field. They were also being used quite extensively in hay making operations on the farm, pulling the mower, the hay the educated ear can tell whether that piece of mechanism is in the best possible order. In the same way one may know whether a machine is new or old, almost without looking at it. When the bearings are worn so that they are loose, the sound is entirely different from that made by a machine just out of the factory. If the bearings of a machine are dry and need oiling, a condition that never ought to be permitted, the ear that is properly attuned knows it and makes haste to remedy the condition, for it indicates, or rather prophesies, injury to the machine.

It is interesting and sometimes painful to note the difference there is between men about judging by the sound whether or not the machine he is operating is in good working order. Some men are in a state of distress the moment anything goes wrong with a machine. If it runs smooth and every movement producing sound is distinct and clear cut, it brings them peculiar pleasure to listen to the machine. Other men do not seem to have much of an idea about the workings of a machine by the sounds it makes. They will run a machine till every bearing is as dry as bone and perhaps never think of using the oil can. Thousands of dollars worth of fine machinery are destroyed every year unnecessarily, simply because the man using the machinery does not use his ears or, if he does, he does not heed what they tell him, or ought to tell him about the condition of the wheels, bearings, and so on. These men know their farm tools wear out faster with the same use than do those of their neighbors, but they wonder why it is so and do not dream for a moment that the fault is their own.

Now this is a matter of education more than anything else. The other day I heard a boy speaking about his father's awkward way of running an automobile. He wondered that his father was so slow about learning how to shift gears and do other things connected with the operation of the car. The young man's mother who had been listening said, "You ought to remember, my boy, that your father was brought up with oxen, and not such machinery as we have these days. He never knew anything about machinery when he was a boy. I think he does first-rate under the circumstances."

Quite in the same line with this is the case of a man not more than fifty years old that I saw towed in with his automobile the other day. It had stopped with him on the road, and he did not know how to start it. When he was on the floor of the repair shop he said: "I can't connect up a set of batteries such as are in my

American Machinery for Mexico

A Mexican citizen of Mazatlan was granted a concession of one hundred hectres (about two hundred forty-seven acres), and so much more as may be necessary, at the railway station of Oso, state of Sinaloa, for the purpose of establishing an experimental farm to demonstrate the economic value which would result from the proper use of modern American agricultural machinery in the production of crops.

It is the intention of the concessionaire to rent portions of the land at a nominal cost to American manufacturers of agricultural machinery and implements, who may send experts to demonstrate the machines with the view both to promoting sales of the American goods and to educating the people in the more modern farming methods.

There are no Mexican import duties on farming machinery and implements and it is stated that any firms taking advantage of the offer will be exempt from local taxes of any kind. The concessionaire proposes to look after all details between the men conducting experiments and the Mexican authorities, and to do everything possible to facilitate operations and make them a success.

The soil offered is said to be very level and fertile and during the dry season it can be irrigated at small cost from the Quila River. The section lies near El Dorado, where a large sugar plantation and sugar mills have been operating successfully during the past thirty years.

So far no experimental farms have ever been established in the state of Sinaloa with these ends in view but it is well known that the agricultural possibilities in the state of Sinaloa are excellent. The people are taking kindly to the introduction and use of modern American agricultural machinery and implements in sofar as their limited means and experience have shown them the advantages to be gained.

At present the local encouragement given to the introduction of foreign capital and foreign methods of agricultural and industrial lines is probably more favorable than it has ever been before. The people realize that while foreign investments are always made with the view to enriching the investors as much as possible, they also give employment to local labor and materially increase the amount of money in circulation.

The increase in the tomato crop this year alone has been sufficient to cause the growers to purchase a notable amount of American farming machinery and implements, and the coming year will probably mean a greater increase. Until last year many people looked upon tomato growing in this consular district as something of an experiment. The crop, therefore, never exceeded three hundred cars, whereas this year it will amount to about one thousand carloads, or more than three times that of any prior year. It seem probable that more tractors and other modern farming machinery will be introduced in this state, as the farmers have discovered the value of labor-saving devices in crop production.

Consol, Mazatlan.

Setling the Line Fence

By A. B. BROWN.

EVERY layman (as the lawyers call those who are not members of the legal profession) knows that it is the law in practically every state in the American Union that any sale or transfer of land, or any interest therein, is not binding unless it is in writing, signed by the party or parties.

Smith and Jones, two everyday farmers occupying adjoining farms, in the course of a little transaction raised an interesting point in this connection.

As has been said, the two farms adjoined each other and the line fence between the cleared parts had been settled for years and there was no dispute about it. Back of the cleared land on each farm, however, there was some partially cleared land which they decided to use for pasture and to build an ordinary "brush" fence along the line. When they came to build the fence, however, they could not tell the exact location of the line.

"I should think it would be about here," said Smith, as he stood up beside a small poplar tree.

"You may be right, but I think it's about here," declared Jones, taking up a position about fifteen feet west of the tree.

Smith walked down to a point just about midway between the two locations

"Suppose we divide the difference and say that the line is here," he suggested.

"That suits me all right," agreed the other

"Then it's understood that this is the line," declared Smith.

"Sure thing," agreed Jones.

Following this agreement the two

"I do my washing by headwork now"

"For all I need to do, after putting the clothes and water in the tub, is to press the pedal with my foot to start the engine, and the washing begins.

"When it is done, unlatching and lifting the lid stops the washer and starts the wringer, then I merely feed the clothes through and refill the tub

"And while the second batch is washing, I can keep the wringer going too, and wring from rinse to blue and blue to basket.

"Just repeating that operation disposes of the biggest wash in an hour or less, with no real work, and three or four cents' expense for power.

"And then it is all so interesting, and I feel so independent at being able to do it all myself."

The Multi Motor washer is an exclusive Maytag production and is the only practical self-contained power washing machine operating independent of electric service. The power is generated by a small, highly efficient gasoline engine built in under the tub and operating both washer and wringer

In farm homes equipped with electric lighting plants the Maytag Electric is the favored washer, as it possesses all the refinements of construction and advanced features of efficiency common to every type of Maytag washing machine.

Uncle Sam Tractors Speed Up Your Activities and Keep Down the Upkeep

WE HAVE SET THE PACE!

Sturdy as a battleship in her light alloy steels, and suspended securely on the new semi-elliptic springs, the Uncle Sam is literally a revelation in comfort and a revolution in economy.

Perfect and efficient draft is obtained in the Uncle Sam 12–20 by the ingenious arrangement of the transmission -an exclusive Uncle Sam invention conceived by Uncle Sam engineers.

By this new and exclusive construction we minimize friction and wear, which means low upkeep and more power. The practical results obtained from this transmission are a noticeable increase of power, added economy, absence of dirt, and freedom from trouble, due to the old style exposed gear. In this, you have the advantage of this wonderful tractor economy and the satisfaction of its long life.

The Uncle Sam 12–20 increases the acreage independently of the gas tank. It solves the great problem of tractor design by combining light weight, power and economy with heavy weight, comfort and traction.

This 2-3 plow tractor is the only machine in this class constructed entirely from the highest grade of material, absolutely enclosed, and using Timken roller bearings throughout. The Uncle Sam establishes a precedent for dirt proof transmission of power.

It is well to bear in mind that we will still continue to manufacture the famous Uncle Sam 20-30 Tractor, as well as the Uncle Sam Model C Wide Tread Tractor, and that these machines are in no way supplanted or replaced by the Uncle Sam 12–20.

Live Dealers will get prices and discounts and make territory reservations.

Resting Tired Muscles

Did you ever carry a heavy suit case up hill for a long way, and, feeling about ready to drop, suddenly find that someone coming up behind you was lifting the burden and you were free?

What a relief it was—that lift. How it changed the very scenery about you and you began to take notice of the houses and trees and flowers on the hill-top, which you hadn't seen before. Immediately life seemed more worth while and the world really beautiful to look upon.

France is tired—wearied in mind and body from four years of war waged in her own front yard. She has been carrying burdens much heavier than suitcases. And before her was that desolate picture of heaped ruins, unproductive fields—and everywhere waste. Then not long ago, the American Red Cross took the tractor to France.

The tractor is lifting a heavy burden from the French farmer; and instead of slowly plowing, with the aid of two horses and ordinary equipment, an acre and a half a day, the farmers over there are discovering that, with the miracle-machine introduced by the American Red Cross, fifteen acres a day may be plowed.

In bringing this relief to sadly wearied France, the French Agricultural Association united with the Red Cross in compiling and published a manual designed to give to French farmers all possible information proving the advantages to be derived from the tractor in the reconstruction of farms. The Red Cross also appropriated sums of money for agricultural implements to be used in the work of rehabilitating the farming sections of the devastated areas.

Mention Tractor and Gas Engine Review When Writing

considerable depths. The shield or curbing protects the ditch from the face of the cut to five feet behind the digging apparatus. This gives ample room for laying the tile before the banks can cave.

In some cases a tile crane is used with these machines for handling the larger size tile. In ordinary digging the machine is propelled by the traction, but when using the shield or curbing the machine is moved forward by a pulling cable and winding drum. There is no machine that depends on traction power alone that can pull a curbing or shield successfully. The machine is mounted on six broad tire wheels and will travel over very soft ground, and as the rear and front wheels can be steered the machine can be turned or backed easily, and very short turns can be made.

It is stated that the entire trailer, including the digging apparatus, can be detached from the traction by simply removing the king bolt and disconnecting the drive chain and hoisting cable. The traction can then be used for hauling purposes or for any power where a traction engine can be used. The machine has a road speed of one and one-half miles per hour.

It is of interest to note that the depth at which the digger operates is regulated from the trailer frame by a hoisting apparatus which can be operated either by hand or power, and as the point of support is directly over the lower end of the digger, it has been demonstrated in practice that the grade can be held with absolute accuracy. Grade boards of the ordinary kind are used and one man rides on the platform over the trailer frame and attends to the grade as well as operates the tile crane for lowering the tile into the trench; one man in bottom of the trench lays the tile when lowered into the trench and one man handles the tile on the bank of the ditch and attaches the hook to the tile provided for that purpose. One man operates the machine or traction, making a crew of four men for the operation of our machine—however, one man can operate the machine and dig the trench to grade, leaving the ditch in shape for the tile to be laid later, but this is not advisable, except on small tile and shallow ditch where the tile crane is not necessary.

It is held that one of the best and most valuable features of this machine is the self-cleaning excavating bucket. These buckets are of very open construction, and are bolted rigidly to the chains, and pass over a stationary cleaner when passing over the dumping position. Due to the strength of the buckets and the flexibility of the digging apparatus, our machines have been operated without experiencing much difficulty in handling work where boulders no larger than the buckets are encountered. Should the digging apparatus encounter an obstruction too large for the machine to handle, the machine is relieved from any excessive strain by means of a safety device in the shape of a friction clutch, which slips when a certain amount of strain is placed upon it. The gasoline engine of the two-cylinder opposed type, which is used to supply the power, is of the slow speed, heavy duty type. It is of more than ample power, and as free from vibration as it is possible to make an engine. An engine of 25-horse power is used in the smaller machine, and a 40-horse power engine on the larger machines.

It is claimed that these machines are capable, with proper handling, of excavating in any soil that can be readily handled with a spade or shovel, and is free from shale or rock, a trench twenty-eight inches wide and to a depth of eight feet, (and if the walls of the trench will stand without shoring while the tiles are being laid, to a depth of twelve feet.) They will dig bottom of the trench at a true grade, and have the capacity, while operating under these conditions, of removing forty-eight cubic yards of earth per hour.

farmers built the fence on the line which they had agreed upon, and as there was no written agreement whatever, the question then arises whether the location of the fence, being entirely by word of mouth, was binding on the two parties.

On this point the law is well settled that where a dispute or doubt arises as to the location of the proper line between adjoining lands, and the owners, without any writing, agree upon a line, and act upon and recognize it, the agreement is binding, even although there is no writing, and the line cannot be changed by one owner if the other objects.

"While it may be regarded as well settled that the title to real estate cannot be transferred by a verbal agreement," says the Illinois Court, "yet it is a principle well established that the owners of adjoining tracts of land may, by a verbal agreement, settle and establish permanently a boundary line between their lands, which, when followed by possession according to the line so agreed upon is binding and conclusive, not only upon them, but upon other parties to whom the land may afterwards be sold."

The same rule holds in Arkansas, Alabama, California, Delaware, Florida, Georgia, Illinois, Indiana, Iowa, Kentucky, Maine, Massachusetts, Michigan, Mississippi, Missouri, New Hampshire, New York, Ohio, Pennsylvania, Tennessee, Texas, Washington, West Virginia and Wisconsin.

Now, it being true, as a matter of law, that the line established by Smith and Jones, under the above circumstances, was legal and binding upon both parties, although the agreement was not in writing, another important question arises.

Suppose, for instance, that two or three years after this line was established, Smith and Jones decide to change the line two or three rods to the east or west, both would agree to the new location, but the agreement is not put in writing. Is this second agreement changing the location of the line already established binding without being put in writing?

No, as it has been laid down by the Courts of California, Delaware, Georgia, Illinois, Kentucky, Mississippi, Missouri, New York, Ohio, Texas, West Virginia, and Wisconsin that, while the parties may verbally settle the location of a disputed or uncertain line, yet, when that line has been once established, it cannot be changed by an agreement between the parties, unless that agreement be in writing.

"America's

An "All Star" Truck

Like an "All-Star" theatrical performance, the MUTUAL TRUCK is an aggregation of units that have won a place and a name for themselves at the very top of the profession.

In making our selection of the units for the MUTUAL we closed our ears to the noise of mere popular advertising; and, by careful comparison, measurement and test, of the rival makes of engines, clutches, transmissions, universals, frames, axles, radiators, steering gears, magnetos, carburetors, wheels and all other parts, chose the ones that the great majority of the best posted authorities on the "inside" agreed with us were the only ones that could be used for a truck that would dare call itself—"America's Greatest Truck."

MUTUAL SUPER SPECIFICATIONS (TWO TON)

America's Greatest Truck Engine

From every standpoint—design, material, construction, extreme care in manufacture and inspection, the Wisconsin Engine is recognized as indisputably America's Greatest Truck Engine.

There are several very good "second best" truck engines on the market, any one of which is good enough for an ordinary truck; but there is only one engine that is good enough for "America's Greatest Truck"—and that engine is the "Wisconsin"—first in gas economy, endurance, reliability and all-round engine efficiency.

And we put into our 2-ton MUTUAL the same 4 x 6 Wisconsin engine that others use in their 3 and 3½-ton trucks.

America's Greatest Truck Governor

The Duplex Company's Duplex (not Simplex) is the only one that controls road-speed independent of motor-speed. It makes the driver obey the owner's orders always and everywhere, it is, in fact, an "automatic chauffeur," that adds years of life to the machine by guarding it against abuse. It is vastly more accurate than throttle control, makes a 20% increase in gasoline efficiency by use of a patented "grid" valve instead of the butterfly type. It proportions fuel-feed to suit road conditions, delivers power as needed, and insures a quick get-away. The Duplex delivers more power on hills and bad roads, increases average road speed 20-30% and acts as an automatic safety brake on steep down grades. Incidentally it costs us 2 to 5 times as much as other makes and types.

America's Greatest Truck Clutch

The Hele-Shaw, Universal No. 5, oil-immersed, multiple-disc clutch costs us twice as much as the next best, and from three to four times as much as clutches used on the majority of trucks. It gives a smooth, silent but positive pick-up; a firm final grip; and saves the engine and entire mechanism (including tires) the ruinous "racking" that cheap clutches cause. You will tolerate no other clutch on any truck you own after you use the Hele-Shaw.

MUTUAL

Greatest Truck" 2-3½-5 TON

America's Greatest Truck Universal

Could it be anything but a Spicer? And we use three Spicer joints in the shaft and a fourth in the universal clutch itself. Here, too, we put into our 2-ton Mutual a size used for 3 and 3½-ton trucks by all other makers who use the Spicer.

America's Greatest Truck Transmission

"Fuller" of course; and their model "G5" selective; with removable plates, to permit attachment of mechanical hoist and tire pump. Four speeds forward and reverse. A simple sturdy, dependable gear-set used by leading high-priced truck makers on their 3 and 3½-ton models.

America's Greatest Truck Axles (Ball Bearing)

To insure the highest efficiency, we adopted the Sheldon Worm Gear Axle—first because both the worm thrust and radial loads are taken by ball bearings, which offer less friction than any other type of bearing. Second—because it is of the semi-floating type, which has the advantages of greater simplicity, less weight, greater carrying capacity, greater resistance to side shocks, lower maintenance cost and greater ease of removing wheels for inspection. The more deeply versed in scientific automotive engineering a man is, the more emphatic will be his declaration that the Sheldon is America's Greatest Truck Axle.

Sheldon Ball bearing steering knuckle type of Front Axle was adopted as a matter of course.

And These, Too, Are Greatest:

Parish and Bingham pressed steel Frame; extra heavy type. Length 224 inches.

Mather Chrome Vanadium Springs.

Smith Metal Wheels for solid tires—regular equipment and not a costly extra.

Dayton Steel Wheels for pneumatic tires.

Goodyear or Firestone Tires; 36 x 4 solid for front wheels and 36 x 8 for rear; or same makes of Pneumatic tires as an option, at an extra cost

Ross Steering Gear—with 20 inch wheel (not 17-18 inch).

Perfex Radiator, worth a big story in itself

Bosch Magneto—type ZR4 with impulse-starter Dust proof and water proof.

Stromberg Carburetor; type M.

Bound Brook Oilless Bushings: throughout.

Weather-tite Cab—fit for a King; regular equipment.

Powell Muffler—12 sections. Remarkably silent

Electric Steel Castings at vital points, where others use Malleables.

25-Gallon Gasoline Tank

Special 2½-gallon Reserve Lubricating Oil Tank.

Wheel base—150 inch.

Specifications on the Mutual 3½-ton and 5-ton are equally "Great"

Dealer Territory Now Being Assigned

And we shall be as particular in choosing our local sales representatives as we were in selecting the parts that make the MUTUAL—

"America's Greatest Truck"

But, when we do find our man, we back him to the limit; and help him with a combined local and class journal advertising campaign that has no parallel in truckdom.

MR. ALBERT SCHOENHUT, who founded the great Schoenhut Toy business in Philadelphia in 1872, was the first of all Toy makers to make Toys true to life.

Before him, Toy makers had just followed their own whims and made fanciful things. But he knew that in every child's heart there is a longing for real things that work and go.

The Schoenhut Toy Piano, as invented by Mr. Schoenhut, was the first toy piano with accurate notes. Real tunes can be played upon it. The keys are the same width as on grown-up pianos, so that the child learns to spread her fingers properly. Schoenhut toy pianos are sold by practically all toy dealers and music stores. There are 42 variations of sizes and styles, ranging in price from 50 cents to $25.00 each. They should not be ordered from the factory, as it is not practical to ship them by parcel post

Schoenhut's Humpty Dumpty Circus Toys are universally acknowledged the most amusing unbreakable toys. Clowns, elephants, donkeys, horses and all the other amusing animals and people can be made to do the very same tricks that are seen in the "big" circus. The figures are made of solid wood, fully jointed with strongest elastic cord. Start a circus with a few pieces and keep adding to it until your "greatest show on earth" is completed. Sold in sets from 75 cents to $25.00, according to the number of pieces. If your dealer cannot supply you, send us his name and we will mail you an illustrated catalog free

The Schoenhut ALL-WOOD Doll is the greatest of all the Schoenhut inventions—an American-made doll that has proved to be far superior in every way to any doll ever imported from foreign Dolldom. It is almost unbreakable, being made entirely [illegible] wood and fully jointed with patented steel spring hinges having double spring tension and swivel connections. The parts are held tightly together, yet the joints are so flexible that the doll can be placed in any position and will stay as placed. Having no elastic cord, the doll never requires restringing. It is painted with enamel oil colors that do not come off. These dolls come with the finest quality mohair wigs, or with hair carved on wooden heads and painted natural colors. Your little ones can never know the full joy and pride of doll possession until they own a Schoenhut All-Wood Doll. Schoenhut Dolls, being a new invention, are not yet stocked by all dealers. If your dealer cannot supply you, we shall be glad to do so direct from the factory. Send for illustrated doll booklet

Look for the Schoenhut name. With Schoenhut Toys in all good stores everywhere no mother need put in the hands of her child carelessly conceived or cheaply constructed toys—toys that break a few days after Christmas, toys with paint that comes off, toys that confuse the child's growing thoughts. Every Schoenhut Toy means education cleverly interwoven with amusement. Look for the name Schoenhut, which appears on every toy or package

GREETING—you smokers of MURADS, wherever you are!

In the offices, banks, mills, factories, of the big cities and little towns.

Or doing the work of the world in the big open—

In frozen Alaska, where every ounce counts, where substitution and "half-good" are dangerous.

In tropical jungles.

In navy ward-rooms, on far-off army posts, where a whiff of the right cigarette is a "wireless" from Home.

On ranches, golf links, ocean liners, campuses, in mining camps, clubs, studios, newspaper sanctums, hotels, stock exchanges, legislatures, or wherever the layman or professional man gathers.

Wherever the FLAG flies or American genius has penetrated.

Greeting!

MURADS are THE Turkish cigarette, aren't they?

They DO stand the test.

They DO smooth over the rough places and make the smooth ones more delightful.

You have smoked MURADS, and YOU KNOW.

And you have told the man shoulder to shoulder with you, about MURADS.

It is YOU who have made MURADS the greatest selling Turkish cigarette in the world.

SANTA CLAUS—the good American that he is—this year has turned to Uncle Sam for his toys. In fact the pair of them have been working together for months and months for our American kiddies.

They have planned and arranged and built really wonderful things. They are original—there is a host of new toy ideas.

They are conceived and built by American men and women—they are not the thoughts or work of foreign countries.

American-made toys are best for the children because each toy is perfect. The design is right, the craftsmanship is careful—there are more to pick and choose from. They are educational—they are amusing.

This Christmas make children happier with American-made toys.

This season—this coming New Year—resolve to support American industries—to protect American trade.

Patronize the toy store that shows the circle of Uncle Sam and the laughing, happy children. You will find there the greatest assortment of Christmas and all-year-round toys the best ones, too.

Christmas Dolls for the Kiddies

By Anne Wilson

I WISH I might take you with me to visit the home of Mrs. Jessie McCutcheon Raleigh, the mother of these dear little dolls, just so you can see for yourself the joy that goes into the fashioning of these little people so that they will carry happiness to all the little kiddies this Christmas. Mrs. Raleigh is a real Santa Claus and she has taken as her model for these dolls little American children. And the dresses she has made for them will delight big mothers, and little mothers as well. There are two kinds of dolls, those which open and close their eyes and those which do not.

The doll that walks is from Madam Georgine and the rag doll from Mrs. Deuckle.
